LUXEMBOURG IS EASILY OVERRUN

Holland And Belgium Putting Up Firm Resistance To Attacks

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 10.—Under Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's personal command, the German army went into action on the western front today, occupying the grand duchy of Luxembourg and attacking Belgium and Holland to "safeguard" their neutrality.

Early reports indicated a walkover in Luxembourg but stiff resistance in Belgium and Holland, although military information said that the Hague, capital of the Netherlands, was seized and occupied by troops landed from the sea.

This capture, it was said, places the German army in a valuable strategic position.

Charging an Anglo-French plot to invade the Ruhr valley by way of Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, Hitler left for the front to lead his army to "victory or death." The Ger-

The blitzkrieg began when a huge German air force flew above the Netherlands westward, ostensibly bound for England.

Little Belgium Again Becomes Center Of War

French Army Crosses Border On Way To Aid Of Belgium

BELGIANS DEFEND NATION'S BORDER

Claim Only Parachute Troops Have Been Able To Enter Country

By I. AKIVISSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BRUSSELS, May 10. — The air raid sirens screamed incessantly in Brussels today as Little Belgium, for the second time in modern history, became the battleground of war.

As news reached Brussels that the French army had crossed the border to come to Belgium's aid, the skies over the city were filled with planes and off to the east the antiaircraft guns roared.

The Brussels airport was attacked at 5:30 a. m. Several heavy bombs were dropped. One struck a nearby house and injured its occupants.

Population Calm

The sirens are blowing as I write, but despite these ominous warnings the population remains calm.

A near casualty of the lightning German invasion was the American minister, John D. Cudahy. He was knocked to the floor when a bomb blew up a house only 100 yards from the United States embassy.

Cudahy tried to put in a call to the White House, but found all outgoing telephone lines cut.

He has been called upon to dupli-

Allied Armies On West Front Go Into Action

To Aid Belgium, Holland And Luxembourg Against Nazi Invasion

BRITAIN PREPARES TO REPEL ATTACK

Report Allied Air Force Is In Action Over Low Countries Against Invaders

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 10.—After eight months of waiting, the British and French armies on the western front sprang into action today to defend Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg against a lightning German invasion by land, sea and air.

While weak and poorly-defended Luxembourg apparently fell into German hands a short while after Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler unleashed his army and air force, both Belgium and Holland offered stout resistance.

Even before the allied armies

BOTH NATIONS HOLD OFF NAZI LEGIONS AS FRENCH RUSH TO AID

Report 70 German Planes Brought Down In Holland — Dykes Are Open—Belgium Holds German Troops At Border—Huge Number Of German Planes In Attacks On Allied Military Strongholds — Luxembourg Is Quickly Overrun By Nazis—Parachute Troops Used To Land In Holland—War's Biggest Drive Is Opened.

(By International News Service)

Destruction of 70 Nazi war planes and successful attacks upon four armored troop trains—A fifth was blown up—was Holland's way of showing today her grim determination not to be crushed beneath the wheels of Chancellor Hitler's mighty military juggernaut.

Both Holland and Belgium appeared to be successfully holding off the Nazi legions as French troops poured across the frontiers to engage their common enemy.

Luxembourg Falls

The small grand duchy of Luxembourg, however, fell swiftly before the German blitzkreig, in spite of heroic resistance of her pitifully small army and her border guards.

Hitler's blitzkreig was launched early this morning on what is perhaps the widest front ever deployed by a nation at war—a front extending from the Swiss border where German warplanes crossed to bomb French towns, to cities deep in the interior of England, where German bombs screamed earthward from high-flying war birds.

With the aplomb which has become customary by repeated usage in the recent past, the Reich blandly announced its purpose to "protect" Belgian and Dutch neutrality against Anglo-French plans to "attack Germany on Belgian and Dutch territory." The Germans said:

"German soldiers are not entering Holland and Belgium as enemies ...should German troops encounter resistance...it will be crushed by every means. The Belgian and Dutch governments alone would bear responsibility for the unavoidable bloodshed."

AMSTERDAM, May 10. — Firm Dutch resistance all along the frontier today slowed down Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's attempted lightning conquest of Holland.

Dutch sappers blew up all the bridges across the Maas (Meuse) and Yssel rivers, compelling the Germans to depend upon boats and rafts to transport huge columns of land troops which followed in the wake of bombing planes and parachute jumpers.

At an early hour this afternoon, an official broadcast over the Dutch radio said that the invaders had succeeded in reaching only one

French Cities Bombed As Army Races To Belgium's Assistance

By KENNETH DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 10.—German war planes bombed the French cities of Nancy, Lille, Colmar, Pointoise and Calais today a short while after the French army raced to the assistance of invaded Belgium as it did in 1914.

There were no immediate details of damage or casualties.

The German attack, according to a French spokesman, was launched simultaneously all along the Dutch, Belgian and Luxembourg frontiers.

"They are making some progrses everywhere but especially in Luxembourg," he said.

The French front remains quiet.

Word received at the Belgian embassy said that 37 German planes bombed Antwerp, where a military hospital was destroyed. The Jonelle railway station in Luxembourg was wrecked.

Smiling skies produced a crowd estimated at 1200 and the smiling faces of the men who have been working for years to bring about a reason for such a ceremony was an indication of their satisfaction.

Legion Head Urges America To Be Prepared

Reiterates Policy Of American Legion To Have Adequate Defense Against Invasion

GIVES ADDRESS AT ANNUAL DINNER

Demands That America Stay Out Of Any Wars In Europe

Need for an adequate national defense, a policy urged by the American Legion for the past 20 years, so that America would be prepared to repel any invaders before they reached our shores, is just gaining recognition in this country, National Commander Raymond J. Kelly of Detroit told an audience of over 1,200 which had gathered in The Cathedral last evening to honor the leader of America's greatest war veteran organization.

For years, he stated, the American Legion was a voice crying in the wilderness in this matter. Those men who had seen the results of war in France wanted none of it brought to these shores, and knew that while they could win a war, they could not win, a lasting peace. Today America is beginning to make defense preparations as war has spread throughout Europe, and is beginning to realize that the fore-

Hitler Declares Zero Hour Is Here!

Proclamation Given Troops

Tells Soldiers That Hour For Most Decisive Struggle Has Come

FUTURE OF GERMAN NATION IS AT STAKE

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 10—Here is Reichsfuehrer Adolph Hitler's war proclamation to the German troops on the western front;

"The hour for the most decisive struggle for the future of the German nation has come.

"For 300 years the rulers of England and France have tried to frustrate the consolidation of Europe and above all to keep Germany weak and powerless.

"To this send France alone has declared war on Germany on 31 occasions within two centuries.

"But for decades past it has also been the aim of British world rulers to prevent the German unity under all circumstances and deny the Reich such vital goods as are necessary for the preservation of eighty million people.

England and France carried out this policy without regard to the regime prevailing in Germany. They always wanted to hit the German people and their responsible statesmen today admit this. Their aim is that Germany shall be crushed and dissolved into small states.

"Thereby the Reich would lose political power and consequently the possibility of safe-guarding the vital rights of the German nation.

Peace Moves Rejected

"That is why all my peace moves have been rejected and why war was declared last September.

"The German people felt no hatred or enmity for the British and French nations. However they face the decision whether they want to continue to live or to perish.

"Within a few weeks our gallant troops defeated the Polish enemy sent forward by Britain and France and thereby removed the menace from the east. Thereupon England and France decided to attack Germany from the north. But on April 9, the German defense forecs nipped this attempt in the bud.

"Now something has occurred which faced us a menace for many months. England and France were attempting to push through to the Ruhr by way of Holland and Belgium while staging a gigantic diversion manoeuvre in southeastern Europe.

"Soldiers of the western front! The zero hours has now come for you. The struggle is beginning today to decide the fate of the German nation for the next thousand years. Now do your duty. The German nation's blessing are with you."

NURSES HOME OPEN FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION ON SUNDAY

floor. Offices, reception rom, library, dietetics and chemical laboratories, lecture rooms and doctors office are on the first floor.

The three upper floors are similar in lay-out. Here are found, besides the private rooms for the nurses, a small kitchen, a laundry, a large wash and bath room, each of the utility rooms being finished with marble and tile wainscoting and equipped with the latest modern devices for efficiency and comfort. On each of these top floors is a large recreation room.

Equipped with vapor heating system, modern light conditioning, etc., the home provides all modern living conditions for the health and well-being of its occupants. It was designed by William P. Hutchins, registered architect of Pittsburgh, who also designed the hospital building erected in 1919.

The New Castle Hospital and School of Nursing is conducted by the Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis, whose motherhouse is Mount Alvernia, Millvale, Pa.

Requested To Register

All persons who wish to take the opportunity of visiting the hospital and nurses' home are requested to register at the desks in the hospital lobby; they will then be assigned to groups in charge of a nurse, who will take them on the tour, which will permit the visitors to see the offices, record room, chart storage and group hospitalization room, ice plant, boiler room, laboratory, pharmacy, dining rooms and laundry, all located on the first floor. For inspection on the second, third and fourth floors, are the x-ray department, private rooms, wards, operating rooms, emergency room, children's department, delivery room and nursery.

The purpose of this program is to show that just as the new model automobiles are improved each year, so the modern apparatus and methods used in the hospital are likewise becoming more and more "streamlined" and efficient in order to relieve suffering and save lives more successfully; patients whose illnesses or injuries would have caused death 20 or 30 years ago are saved today and returned to their home with health restored. It is within the memory of the present generation that the average stay of a patient in the hospital was 35 days—five weeks.

Today, it is less than 14 days.

May 12 is also the birthday of Florence Nightingale and is observed by hospitals of the United States and Canada every year. There are about 6,000 hospitals in the United States. A little less than half of them are non-governmental, non-profit institutions described as "voluntary" hospitals, of which the New Castle Hospital is one; and these hospitals admit more than half the total number of patients.

The New Castle Hospital was first opened in the old Phillips Mansion in 1908. In 1920 th new building was dedicated, and in 1925, 32 private rooms were added thereto. The New Castle Hospital now has accommodations for 95 adults, 10 children, and 20 new-borns.

BOTH NATIONS HOLDING OFF NAZI LEGIONS AS FRENCH RUSH AID

cluding, according to allied charges, the use of parachute troops disguised in Dutch uniforms. This the Nazis indignantly denied.

Likewise, Britain, France, Belgium and Holland charged the Germans with the ruthless bombings of towns and cities resulting in the deaths of an unascertained number of civilians. This also was heatedly denied by the Germans, who claimed the assaults were directed solely at military objectives—airports, railways, bridges and other lines of communications.

Occupation of The Hague, Netherlands capital, by Nazi troops transported in swift torpedo boats, was claimed by the Reich, and it was said that the airports at Rotterdam, Amsterdam and many other Dutch cities had been "successfully bombed". At The Hague 200 Nazis assertedly disguised in British uniforms were dropped via parachute. Fate of these Nazis was not officially announced, but Netherlands authorities announced that "the Dutch were not deceived". Thus it is presumed the German parachutists were cut down before they could fulfill their mission.

Dykes Are Opened

Meanwhile, the Dutch opened their dykes and flooded the lowlands, forcing the invaders to employ flat-bottomed boats and rafts to transport their troops. Bridges were blown up and railroads destroyed to check the German advance until the French poilus can reach the scene of fighting and come to grips with the Germans.

Chancellor Hitler hurried to the western front to personally supervise his latest steps in his lightning war.

Even as Hitler sped toward the front, Pope Pius wept in Vatican City over the news of the "unjustified aggression".

But in allied military circles—where this invasion long had been anticipated—there was no weeping and no delay.

Belgians Halt Nazis

Brussels, May 10.—Blowing up bridges and destroying roads, Belgium's crack little army halted the German advance across the border today.

Latest military information in Brussels said that the Nazis, who had expected clear sailing across the no man's land between Belgium's fortified line and the border itself, had been at least temporarily stopped in their tracks.

Moving swiftly even before the arrival of French and British forces, Belgian troops went into action along the frontier, answering every German salvo in kind and delaying the advance by wrecking bridges, tearing up roads and placing every possible obstable in the German path.

A check-up showed extremely few casualties from German air raids on Brussels, which were directed against the airport.

Belgian troops throughout the country were busily engaged in rounding up groups of German parachute jumpers who led the invasion.

Holland Resists

Amsterdam, May 10.—In a series of strong counter-attacks, Dutch forces on the Netherlands frontier halted the land advance of Nazi Germany's invading army this afternoon.

By offering strong resistance, Holland's army maintained virtually all their positions on the Maas (Meuse) and Yssel rivers.

At Delfzijl, four German armored trains were successfully attacked by the Dutch, and one blown up at Venlo.

At least 70 German planes have already been brought down by Dutch fighters and anti-aircraft fire, a military communique declared.

Small German concentrations in various parts of the country are attempting to maintain themselves against strong Dutch opposition, it was said. One report received in Amsterdam said that German parachute troops seized Dutch prisoners and used them as shields against attack.

Attack Entire Holland Border

Washington, May 10.—German ground forces have attacked along the entire eastern Netherlands frontier, according to word received by the state department today from George A. Gordon, American minister at The Hague.

His report was dispatched at 12 a. m. EST (6 a. m., Netherlands time).

The German air force, he advised, has bombed all airports. The state department was unable to interpret whether this meant all major airports of the country, or simply those situated near the eastern border.

Parachute troops have attempted to land near Delft, according to Gordon's message.

LITTLE BELGUIM AGAIN BECOMES CENTER OF WAR

The Belgian government officially announced that allied troops are marching northward to join the Belgians in battle against the invaders, but up to a late hour this morning no French or British planes had arrived.

Belgium's air fields are ready to receive and accommodate them.

There are soldiers everywhere. Equipped with machine-guns they stand in front of government buildings.

It is strange how the people stay on the streets even when the sirens blow. They show more curiosity than fear. They may soon find it advisable to seek shelter.

Only 'Chute Troops Cross

An official statement said that no German troops had succeeded in crossing the border so far except those dropped by parachute from airplanes.

Hitler's "weather luck" held out. The day was warm and the sun was shining.

According to information here, the Germans went into Luxembourg at 3:30 a. m., into Holland an hour later and moved against the Belgian border at the same time. Heavy fighting was reported on the Belgian frontier.

Within a few hours after Nazi troops had swept into Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg by land and air, the French army was on the move.

Allies On Way

Brief and fragmentary advices reaching Brussels told the war-hardened populace of this city that the allies were on the way. Simultaneously, units of the British and French air forces were reported over Holland and Belgium.

King Leopold took his place at the head of the country's armed forces.

All Germans living in Brussels were placed under arrest.

The Belgian capital was officially proclaimed an open town and all arrangements completed to ensure that no troops pass through the city.

This step was taken in an effort to protect Brussels from attack.

Some bombs were dropped in the city, however. One fell beside the German embassy.

The invaded countries were thrown into confusion by the sudden and savage attack.

Belgium Responds Speedily

Belgium responded speedily.

Full mobilization was ordered and Belgian troops went into action on the frontier even before the French arrived.

All communications were taken over by the military, making it extremely difficult to piece together a full picture of the attack.

It was apparent, however, that the German move had been brilliantly timed. Huge Nazi bombers led the assault with attacks on leading airports and other points of military importance.

While Holland opened her dikes, Belgium proclaimed a state of siege. Anti-aircraft guns blazed away and Belgian planes took to the skies.

Numerous isolated bombings were reported. The railway station at Jemelle in the Belgian province of Luxembourg was destroyed by German planes. Parachute troops were dropped there and at St. Trond.

Reports reached Brussels that the troops, in some cases were dressed in stolen Dutch and Belgian uniforms. The population, long keyed to the probability of an invasion, was not deluded, however.

United States Minister John D. Cudahy called at the Belgian foreign office at 7:30 this morning. He was informed of the attack and of Belgium's determination to resist to the full limit of her power.

man government warned the populace that it must gird itself for the greatest struggle in history.

The German people were cautioned against expecting an early or easy victory. There is full realization of the formidable task ahead, but the army is ready for it, official quarters said, and the issue is survival of the strongest.

Dances and other gaieties were banned throughout Germany so that everyone will realize the "grave sacrifices which lie ahead."

Stern Resistance

First reports received in Berlin told of stern Dutch and Belgian resistance, but defeat of Holland within 48 hours was anticipated.

Maastrich, the Dutch border province on the Rhine valley, is already in German hands.

Three thousand Dutch soldiers have been taken prisoner in Maastricht, it was announced.

The German stroke in Holland was led by the air force, with collaboration of land troops who crossed the river Maas in rubber boats and hydroplanes.

Each vessel held sixteen men. Hundreds of flat bottom river boats also were used for the lightning invasion.

Even as these German soldiers were carrying out their orders with lightning rapidity, Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop summoned the representatives of Belgium, Holland, and Luxembourg and read them a memorandum warning that resistance will be broken by all means.

Hitler himself issued a proclamation to the people and the army, telling them that the hour had come for the great test.

Whether the whole western front will flame into action shortly remains to be seen. It may be assumed, however, that the German air force will be on a wide scale over England and France.

FRENCH CITIES BOMBED AS ARMY RACES TO BELGIUM'S ASSISTANCE

Nancy, two soldiers were killed at Lyon, two houses destroyed in the suburb of Lille.

Three bombs fell in the prefecture of Colmar, where Luxeuil also was bombed.

Berne reports said that scores of German planes were sighted over Switzerland during the night, apparently headed for Lyon, whose big airport was bombed.

French Retaliate

The strictest military censorship prevented disclosure of French retaliation against Germany's second invasion of that country beyond a brief announcement that the French army, in response to an urgent appeal for aid, had again gone to Belgium's assistance.

At the same time, the war came to the interior of France when German war planes bombed the important military airport at Lyon.

(Editor's Note: An official announcement by the British air ministry in London said that five German planes were shot down in France in the early hours of this morning following Nazi attacks upon airfields occupied by the royal air force. Units of the R. A. F. "engaged the enemy", the communique said.)

The "blitzkrieg" struck France just before dawn when bombers unloaded their cargoes on various cities and ports along the northeast coast.

French Army on Move

On the alert all night, the French army began rolling toward Belgium and Luxembourg immediately after the invaded nations appealed for help.

Early reports said that advance patrols of Germans and French are already in contact in Luxembourg. The royal air force has gone into action against German columns and communication lines.

Thus all of northern Europe is ablaze with the flames threatening to spread. Switzerland's general mobilization indicates the possibility of another German invasion there to realize the long-touted "double encirclement movement" against France.

Parachute Jumpers Caught

Many parties of German parachute jumpers have been caught and taken prisoner or annihilated. German planes dropped forged pamphlets purporting to be Dutch military announcements instructing the populace not to resist.

Nazi parachutists were captured in Amsterdam and at The Hague. Bitter fighting occurred at Rotterdam between Dutch soldiers and German parachute troops.

Instructions were issued for a complete blackout of all Holland tonight. There will be no public lighting and citizens must obscure all illumination.

Air raid shelters were thrown open and first-aid stations set up in all cities. The Amsterdam and Rotterdam stock exchanges as well as all schools were closed.

Queen Broadcasts Appeal

From her royal palace at The Hague, Queen Wilhelmina broadcast an appeal to the entire population to remain calm and resolute. A government spokesman who followed her called upon the people to follow the example of the Queen and the army in courage and determination.

Numerous Dutch airdromes were bombed during the night and early morning but the population remained calm and quiet.

The Dutch high command issued a brief statement explaining the situation and calling on all citizens to resist the invasion.

Bridges across the Maas (Meuse) and Yssel rivers were blown up.

A military announcement on the radio said:

"Dutch frontier troops have fulfilled their tasks according to plan. German troops are now in contact with our frontier troops."

DANGER IN EXCESSIVE TAXES

DANIEL WEBSTER'S warning that "the power to tax is the power to destroy," is looming larger in the minds of thinking citizens.

Several state legislatures have adopted resolutions urging that a limit of 25 per cent be placed on federal income, gift and inheritance taxes. A resolution adopted by the American Taxpayers association includes the proviso that congress could lift the limit in case of war.

At present congress may levy and collect up to 79 per cent of incomes of individuals and corporations. Every effort has been made to make people believe that high taxes on "big business" is a good way to "soak the rich."

Industry must pass taxes on to the consumer. When taxes pass beyond reasonable limits, costs rise; employment falls. Excessive taxes on individuals force individual wealth to seek refuge in nonproductive, tax-free, low-interest bearing government securities. If the total income of all those receiving more than $100,000 in 1938 were confiscated by taxation it would pay the cost of the government for less than 15 days. And one of the greatest dangers inherent in high federal taxes is the tendency to undermine states rights by seizure of income that should belong to the states.

MORE ATTENTION TO TOURIST BUSINESS

Fourteen states now use movies to promote their tourist business. Many others maintain publicity bureaus and publish colorful leaflets of information which are sent on request to any interested persons, however remote. They are also using increasing amounts of newspaper advertising which is read with zest by millions of Americans.

There are still some states that have not made any special effort to call outsiders' attention to their attractions. No doubt they'll be doing it soon, for such advertising has proved profitable for all concerned. In the meanwhile, they gain from the publicity activity of their neighbors. One state, not yet embarked on a tourist campaign, finds it has an income of $32,000,000 derived from travelers passing through on their way to and from other vacation spots. An income of $50,000,000 is expected from the same source this year.

Such facts disclose how numerous and far-reaching are the ramifications of the great all-American vacation industry.

WAR CENSORSHIP IRKS THE BRITISH

London newspapers and the British public are complaining, apparently with good reason, about bungled censorship by which one paper gets news denied to other papers and which causes all kinds of queer mixups in the publication of war dispatches.

Even the staid Times of London declares that censorship's "vagaries are a nightmare to all concerned with the distribution of news and something of a peril to the public interest" and that "the system must be changed."

It is pretty hard in these days of radio communication and airplane scouting to keep news of such large matters as troop movements a secret for very long. It may be that all ideas of wartime censorship will have to be revised to meet new conditions.

News censorship, like the blackout, is an attendant nuisance of war that operates chiefly to impair public morale. It confirms as much as anything else the dismal fact that in any war the rights and the liberties of the people are high up in the list of casualties.

TWO KINDS OF ADVERTISING

Advertising is of two kinds: The kind that is read, and the kind that isn't.

The kind that is read is the kind that lets prospective customers know, in unambiguous language, why they should buy the advertiser's goods or services, and do it now.

The advertisement that is read is the one that tells the reader why it is to his advantage to buy today, not the advertisement that merely says John Smith would like to have some business, too.

The advertisement that is worth-while to both advertiser and customer is the one that has some excuse for being. The advertisement that does not contain an irresistible reason why a business transaction should be consummated now is about as useful as last winter's snow for skiing.

Advertisers in The News have the goods, or they wouldn't advertise day after day. When you patronize them you patronize the best business places in town, the best for you and the best for your pocketbook.

NOT TOO SOFT!

The wise parent knows that he is not perfect, and that no child is perfect. Understanding of this simple truth can go a long way toward bringing about a healthier relation between the parent and the child, says a noted psychiatrist, Dr. Frederick H. Allen, director of the Child Guidance Clinic of Philadelphia.

In problems arising between parent and child, emphasis once was placed on preventing something. This was the negative approach, in which parents felt they had to change themselves, to become better; they were too serious in their attitude, too completely responsible for what the child became, forgetting that the child has much to do about what he will become.

In place of all that, says the professor, the parent must be himself; he must realize that he is an individual and the child is another individual and both should be treated as such. Discipline there must be, of course, but its definition should not be punishment but direction and this direction not negative (don't do this or that) but positive.

A child does not need to have a complete understanding of everything, nor should he be cradled in perfect surroundings if parents expect the child to fend for himself amid the bumps and imperfections of the outside world. Dr. Allen excuses a parent's expressions of anger, provided the outbursts are reasonably justified by the child's misconduct. Without a bit of peevishness in the household now and then, it becomes an unreal world, poor ground on which to prepare the child for the hard realities of life. Cotton-wool makes poor material for a training field.

Every parent feels he knows better than anyone else how to bring up his own children and may resent the interference of outsiders. The aforementioned is offered, therefore, only to the few who might be interested in one psychiatrist's opinion.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BABY SHOULDN'T BE "EARLY BIRD."

AS THE DAYS grow longer babies and young children want to arise earlier. But it is not well for babies and young children to get up with the birds. Consider the sleep their mothers also lose.

Regardless of the season, many babies and young children don't sleep nearly long enough in the morning. Some young children, especially on the farm, get up when their parents do—at four or five or six—and stay up till their parents go to bed. Such need not happen. It won't if the parents make a sensible plan and carry this plan through.

Follow Program

You say it can't be done, except with a few children? Yes, it can. It was done with our children and it was done with many other children I have studied. The cost in plain to the parent and child to accomplish it is about nothing. The gain to both parent and child in comfort, health and general welfare is ten thousand-fold, perhaps.

Decide on a desirable hour for the tot to get up in the morning. Set the alarm clock for that time. When the clock rings go for the child, or if he is old enough let him get up and dress alone. If he awakens earlier let that be his privilege, but he must not stand in the crib or get out of his cot till the designated time. If he does, give him pain without exception—a good smacking, preferably. Don't tell him to go back to sleep, merely that he must not get up. If you hold yourself literally to this program, he will find the world so drab and unattractive that he will, after a few mornings, just fall back to sleep. But if you are inconsistent, don't hold yourself rigidly to the clock, or if in any way you create the slightest doubt in his mind about the program, he will hold out indefinitely—beg, whine, cry and create all sorts of disturbances.

Then don't expect him to sleep later on Sunday or the Fourth of July than any other day. He should rise at exactly the same hour the year round. Continue with this program indefinitely after the child enters school. As he nears adolescence, even earlier, he may want to sleep longer than his school program will allow.

Some parents, thinking only of their own comfort and welfare, will allow the child to get up and play quietly with his toys whenever he happents to awaken. It's their child, of course, but if they are considering his health and welfare, they probably will prefer to train him to sleep until a regular reasonable hour in the morning. They should remember that it is not only the hour when a child goes to bed that determines how much he sleeps, but also the time when he awakens in the morning. They should realize, moreover, that the child who chooses least sleep is the very child who needs most of it, being so excitable and high-strung.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SUCH DO NOT RETIRE

The other day in Chicago two men stepped to a billboard table for the most dramatic contest in the annals of the grean baize. One was "Young Jake" Schaefer; the other graying William ("Willie") Hoppe, who a third of a century ago, had beaten "Young Jake's" daddy in championship play! The strain was upon Hoppe. If he could beat "Young Jake", he would accomplish the greatest feat in billiard history,—a twenty-game tournament of three-cushion billiards without a defeat.

No sport is more exacting than billiards. Iron nerve control, touch as delicate as a pianist's, perfect coordination of eye and muscle—all must be exercised with the precision of a fine watch. Hoppe fought the strain, the skill of a formidable opponent—and he beat "Young Jake" in that last and twentieth game.

He swept the tournament, defeating ten opponents, five of whom had held world championships, two games each, without losing a game. No man had ever accomplished that before. Hoppe couldn't do it as the Boy Wonder of eighteen the oldtimers still talk about. Nor could he do it as the mature player in his twenties and thirties and forties. He achieved it at the age of fifty-two.

He did more than astonish the billiard world with the incredible—he wrote not with words but with a slim cue and three ivory balls, a telling editorial of encouragement for tens of thousands who may feel that, simply because they've slipped over the half-century age line, the peak of achievement is past and the hope of ambition's fulfillment gone forever.

The worst pests I have to contend with are those unexpected callers who sulk and often insult me when I cannot admit them immediately to my employer." This request has just arrived in today's mail.

I have a chum who is secretary to one of the most prominent officials in the country and she constantly makes the same complaint Her chief responsibility is to protect him from the endless parade of men and women selling everything from insurance and real estate to lucky numbers and sweepstakes tickets. Never having had a glimpse of life within the private sanctum of a busy official they cannot realize that they are but one marcher in this parade which, if admitted, would not only absorb 100 per cent of the executive's time but send him to a sanitorium for a rest cure. Anyone who will confide in one of these faithful secretaries the nature of the business will receive through her an oppointment if her employer is really interested in the proposition. If the callers wants to buy, he will probabaly get in at once. If he wants to sell, he won't get in at all unless the executive wants to buy his product. And he will learn from the efficient secretary just what day and what time of day the man in the inner office would be most likely to see him should he care to call again.

Dear Miss Markel: If the floor space is small should one use small scatter rugs or a full sized rug? In a room with figured wallpaper what kind of draperies and rug should be selected?—H. W.

Answer: (1) Full sized rug of "quiet" design with a minimum margin of bare floor space will give breadth to your floor. Small scatter rugs will tend to decrease the size of the room. (2) Those of plain inconspicuous design. If the walls are plain, a figured rug and plain draperies should be used. If the walls and rugs are plain figured draperies will be effective.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelop.

O'Mahoney Probers Turn Out Evidence
Collect Library Full Of Information
Tenth Volume Has Just Been Finished

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

When Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney's committee on investigation of our natural economics gets around to the production of its report, it will not be a mere report that it will have to submit to Congress. It will be a library.

A few days ago the committee distributed the tenth volume of the information it has gathered thus far.

This volume was a publication of 4,932 pages of solid type, turned out by the government printing office. Said pages are about 6x10 each in area. The whole thing is about five times the proportions of the average long novel, by some such prolix author as Dickens, Scott or Thackeray. It isn't as interesting as they are, either.

Websters' Unabridged Dictionary runs to only approximately one and one-half times as many pages as those included in the O'Mahoney committee's tenth issue. True, Webster has an appendix, but so has the O'Mahoney serial; I didn't count that in the 4,932 pages.

The Encyclopedia Britannica totals 24 volumes, nearly two and one-half times beating Senator O'Mahoney's record to date. Brittanica, however, is virtually finished. The O'Mahoney library continues to grow steadily.

It promises to outdo Webster and Brittanica both before long.

Besides, who'd think of sitting down and reading either Webster or Brittanica right through, from cover to cover? That's what's got to be done with the O'Mahoney findings to draw an intelligent conclusion from them.

Good Idea in Theory

Senator O'Mahoney had a good idea in theory.

His proposition was that this country started off, five or six generations ago, with a governmental system reasonably well adapted to our economic and other conditions of that day.

Since then, he says, our population has multiplied manyfold, our agriculture is altogether different from what it was, all our vast industrial setup is of recent creation and our economic requirements generally are wholly unlike what they were in our founding fathers' era.

But our government, points out the senator, has failed to keep up with these changes. Hence depressions, unemployment and the whole category of evils that we've been suffering from in recent years.

So the Wyoming solon induced Congress to start his pending investigation to ascertain in the minutest detail just where we're "at" economically, enabling us to readjust our legislation and miscellaneous governmental policies accordingly, thus harmonizing things all around, and making everybody prosperous and happy again.

I suspect, though, that the senator didn't foresee what oceans of testimony he since has been inun-

THOUGHTS WHILE SHAVING

This thing which in the glass I see
Is what the world beholds of me.
Minus of course the flaws inside
Which I, somehow, contrive to hide
And which, despite pretensions fair
At times like this I'm well aware.

"Old boy!" say I, "stretch out a bit!
For greater labors you are fit.
Grow stronger by your will to do.
The Lord must be ashamed of you,
He placed you here for work equipped,
But see how sadly you have slipped!

"You've settled down, old boy!" say I,
"Held fast by many an ancient lie.
Faced by the need for service new
You feebly wail: 'Too much to do!
Too busy now! Too old to care,'
And fall asleep within your chair."

"Old boy!" say I, "you know full well
That's not the truth you've grown to tell.
You could be greater, if you would,
Stronger and finer, and you should!
But no. You'll never shaving see
The man you had the power to be."

The Great Game Of Politics

The Hoover Position

WASHINGTON, May 10.

THE position of Mr. Herbert Hoover in the Republican picture is interesting and practically unique. It is the more interesting because no one knows completely what it is or what it will be—including Mr. Hoover. The one sure thing is that he has no personal ax to grind. He is not, for example, seeking the nomination for himself.

THAT statement will arouse derision among certain politicians and propagandists in both parties. The Hoover haters generally will reject it with scorn. The real reason they will not believe it is because it is the truth. There is a well-known type of politician and journalist who instinctively revolts against the truth, invariably prefers to accept lies and never willingly concedes that anyone not of his own particular political group is devoid of an ulterior motive.

NOT in a good many years has there been a public man more maligned and misrepresented than Mr. Hoover. The day he was elected President, in 1928, an organized and highly financed campaign of slander was inaugurated against him and continued with great virulence for four years. In it the professionals were joined by an army of volunteer left-wing writers. Mr. Hoover was portrayed as stupid, craven and sinister. Nothing was too weird to blame on him; nothing too bad to say about him. While many of those engaged in this smearing have since become ashamed of it, some of it still persists. There even are those who believe that Mr. Hoover is now using his Finnish and Polish relief organizations to promote himself politically.

IN spite of all this, Mr. Hoover today occupies a position of great influence in his party and in the country. Undoubtedly he has a larger personal following than any other Republican. But his personal following and his political following are two very different things. Republican politicians, disagreeing on nearly everything else, are united about Mr. Hoover. They eulogize him personally. They agree that he is the best-qualified man for the Presidency. However, they are completely unanimous in asserting that he cannot be nominated, or, if nominated, could not possibly be elected. On that they are united as on nothing else.

NOW, no one knows this better than Mr. Hoover and no one has acquiesced in it more completely. Those who know him best assert that he is not only cheerful and humorous about it but actually greatly relieved. At 66, he has no desire to take on again the burdens of the Presidency. What he is vitally concerned about is in sweeping the New Deal out. Convinced that the country, tough as it is, cannot stand another four years of New Dealism, he probably will support any one of the possible Republican aspirants.

HIS friends say that what he is anxious about is that his party should nominate not only a man who can be elected but one who can handle the job after election. His argument is that the situation as it exists late in June may be very different from the situation now and that it is the part of wisdom not to make commitments now that easily may be bad later. To this end he has thrown his weight on the side of uninstructed delegates and advised going slow before making a final convention choice.

ACTING on this idea, he has declined to indicate a preference for any of the avowed aspirants. Nor is he likely to do so before the convention meets. He will have a large voice in the convention affairs and there will be a number of delegates who will take his advice on platform and candidates. Moreover, the nominee, whoever he may be, will need Mr. Hoover's aid in the campaign very much indeed. Practically everybody concedes these things, but, because he will not now commit himself to any individual, the inflamed partisans are convinced that he is scheming to get the nomination for himself. It isn't, of course, true, but there is no way to make them believe it. And it isn't important whether they do or not.

Italy Is Silent On Future Plan

Expresses Serious Concern Over Spread Of Warfare In Europe

WATCH SPEED OF FRENCH WAR MOVES

By PERCY WINNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, May 10.—Italy, as a great European power, is naturally directly concerned over extension of the war in Europe but is uninterested in claims and counter-claims regarding responsibility, it was authoritatively stated in Rome today.

So far as Italy's policies and conduct are concerned, a spokesman said:

"It is too early to say. We must await events."

Extension of the war to Holland and Belgium constitutes "the real start of war in the west, hence the effective beginning of the European conflict," he said.

Diplomatic circles in Rome did not disguise their anxiety but felt there was no cause for immediate alarm regarding Italy. Military circles believe that much depends upon the course of the conflict in the next few days, particularly as it discloses the power and speed of the French military machine.

A Life's Work

It would be a life's work for an expert to master the contents of the committee's tenth installment alone, to say nothing of the nine which preceded it, and of the indefinite (or infinite) number yet to come.

I've talked with distinguished economists who have taken a look at just that tenth volume and given up in despair.

Here and there a conclusion is drawn, but THEY'RE disputed.

For instance, Senator O'Mahoney has made up his mind that labor-saving machinery largely is responsible for unemployment. Accordingly, he suggests a heavy tax on that kind of machinery, to make it more or less unprofitable to install. The tendency, he argues, would be to drive big industries to "pass it up" and hire more manpower.

I mentioned this scheme not long ago and predicted that it would elicit a terrific "holler" from many quarters as soon as it began generally to "sink in".

Silas H. Strawn, former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, started the yell at his outfit's last convention in Washington. His verdict was that it was an "inconceivably foolish" plan. The Chamber agreed with him. So do a lot of economists, some of whom are good liberals—not hard-boiled capitalists at all. In fact, I've met labor leaders who pronounced the notion impractical. They said they didn't believe it possible to "set time backward in its flight" by legislation. They want shorter hours, of course, but not artificially handicapped production.

In short, Senator O'Mahoney's committee is assessed as providing too much education all at once.

COLLEGE STUDENT TO BE GRADUATED BEFORE HIS DAD

(International News Service)

FORT WORTH, Tex.—As far as the Hartle family of Texas Christian University is concerned, the old Biblical saying about the last being first, is certainly coming true.

Son Bob matriculated as a freshman last September, but his father, J. E. Hartle, has just enrolled in the college and won't get out until a couple of years later than his son. Mrs. Hartle plans to enroll next fall to work for a master's degree in French, so the whole family will be in college together.

The elder Hartle plans to take his degree in some field for natural science such as geology, and commencement day will be additionally delayed for him because he's taking only three courses at a time.

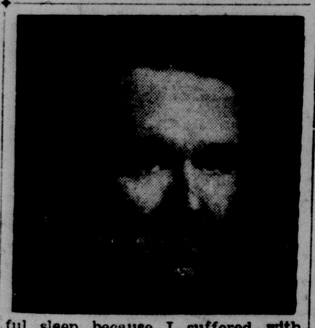
RETONGA MEETS HARD TEST FOR MR. WOODALL

"Acid Indigestion Was So Bad I Was Afraid To Eat," He States. Digestion Fine Now.



Retonga is winning more astonishing victories every day in Pittsburgh and its fame is spreading rapidly throughout the surrounding territory. Mr. H. Woodall, for ten years with the Gulf Oil Corporation, and a well known resident of 2721 Cobden St., Pittsburgh, states that the famous medicine freed him of troubles that had harassed him for twenty years.

"At times I could not retain a bite of food," declares Mr. Woodall. "Often even a glass of water would upset me, and I got to where I was afraid to eat. Gas in my stomach would cause terrible pains, and make me awfully nervous. Constipation was so stubborn I needed laxatives frequently, and some nights I hardly got a wink of restful sleep because I suffered with such a terrible backache.

"Since taking Retonga I am not troubled with acid indigestion and gas pains like I was, and I don't need laxatives. That terrible backache is gone and I sleep fine. Retonga has brought me splendid results and I am glad to make a public statement of my happy experience with this wonderful medicine."

Special Session Program Now Ready For Senate

All Measures Are Passed By House

Will Come Before Senate When That Body Reconvenes On Monday

SEVEN OF BILLS PASS UNANIMOUSLY

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 10.—The special session program of Gov. Arthur H. James today was placed in line for final enactment by the senate when it reconvenes Monday after the house overrode Democratic opposition and passed all measures.

Final action by the house in a continuous 10-hour session included passage of the $71,850,000 relief deficit appropriation; transfer of $61,000,000 from special state funds, including $37,000,000 from the motor fund; authorization to the Turnpike Commission to extend to Philadelphia the Pittsburgh to Harrisburg superhighway and other non-controversial measures completing the governor's program.

House Recesses

Following passage the house recessed until next Thursday at 4 p. m. when it will consider possible senate amendments to the bill. The senate will reconvene Monday night at 9 o'clock at which time the 17 administration bills will come up for first reading. The administration hopes the legislature will adjourn sine die next week. The special session opened on Monday.

All of the administration bills passed with good majorities as the Republican leadership in the house held its lines in a session which lasted from 1 in the afternoon until 10:44 in the evening without a break. It was the longest actually continuous session in the history of the house.

Seven Unanimous

Seven of the administration's measures, including the $71,850,000 appropriation for unemployment relief, passed unanimously.

The bill to extend the turnpike to Philadelphia passed by 191 to 8, all the votes recorded against it coming from the Republican side. The small opposition vote occasioned some surprise, for considerable opposition to the measure had been expressed in Republican caucus.

Prolonged debates preceded the votes, with Democratic opposition being most pronounced against the bill lapsing $4,419,000 of department allocations, the measure transferring $37,000,000 from the motor fund and the bill transferring $11,000,000 from the gasoline fund.

Although the Democrats hammered at the governor's program, terming it a "phoney program...one that would haunt the Republican party...scrape the treasury bare... and result only in additional taxes," there was never any doubt of the outcome.

Issues Warning Concerning Dogs

Can't Let Dogs Roam; Canines Must Have Licenses

Howard McLure state dog law enforcement agent today warned dog owners who have failed to conform with the law and secure dog licenses that they can expect to be arrested unless they do.

The enforcement agent stated that he has made 200 arrests in Beaver county and yesterday made four arrests in Edenburg and Bessemer and those arrested will be given hearings before Squire James Eakin, Hillsville, May 16.

McLure said that some people permit their dogs to run at large, day and night and many others have unlicensed dogs.

"I'm going to make arrests. The dog law must be obeyed. If owners refuse to obey the law they can expect punishment," he asserted.

DENTIST HAS NEW FORMULA ON HOW TO WIN PATIENTS

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND—How to win patients and perhaps secure prompter payments was described by Dr. E. L. Ball of Cincinnati before dentists attending the annual clinic of the Cleveland Dental society.

First approach is to dress the part, said Dr. Ball, who was attired in a white uniform with shiny pearl buttons across his shoulder and down the side of his coat.

After the patient has been ushered into the doctor's chambers by his assistant, Dr. Ball is then introduced and proceeds to discuss current events, the weather and other topics of conversation. During the chat, the doctor washes his hands and puts a little lotion on his arms.

"I am always careful to have used an efficient mouthwash," Dr. Ball stated. "Many a dentist has lost a patient because of what his best friends would tell him. After deliberate preparation I am ready for the examination."

DOCTORS FOUND TO LIVE LONGER THAN AVERAGE PERSON

(International News Service)

CHICAGO.—Doctors live longer on the average than the general population, according to figures released by the American Medical Association.

Also the age at death in the case of physicians has jumped nearly two and one-half years in the last decade, the journal points out.

In its annual analysis of the deaths of 3,879 doctors in 1939, the journal stated that the average age at death was 66.1 years, an increase of 2.4 years from 63.7 of 1930.

It has been established that the life expectancy of the average American is considerably higher than a few decades ago. A recent survey gave the life expectancy as 59.6 for the average American or 6.5 years below the medical profession.

Habakkuk Fights Through Doubt To Faith

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Prophets Jeremiah, Jonah, Isaiah and Habakkuk

"The righteous shall live by his faith."—Hab. 2:4.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 12 is Habakkuk, the Golden Text being Hab. 2:4, "The righteous shall live by His faith.")

The book of Habakkuk is one of the shortest in the Old Testament. The name Habakkuk comes from a Hebrew root, we are told, and means "to embrace." Little is known of this prophet, and he is not mentioned in any other part of the Old Testament. His literary power is considerable; it is full of force, with graphic and powerful descriptions.

It is thought Habakkuk wrote in the reign of Jehoiakim, around 609-597 B.C. The Chaldeans were the conquering nation of the time, and Habakkuk foretells the conquest of Jerusalem by them in these words:

"For, lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the breadth of the land, to possess the dwelling places that are not theirs.

"They are terrible and dreadful; their judgment and their dignity shall proceed of themselves.

"Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves: and their horsemen shall come from far; they shall fly as the eagle that hasteth to eat."

Why Do Wicked Prosper?

In the book of Habakkuk is the first mention in the Bible of that problem that has perplexed people from the earliest time even to now; how is it that evil people prosper while the righteous and just suffer all sorts of ills? God is all powerful and all things proceed from Him. Why, then, should the good be poor and distressed and the unrighteous gain the good things of the world? Habakkuk answers the question satisfactorily for him. In the end, he states, the good shall win. It is God's plan. The times he describes seem to be much the same as those of today, when many are asking the self-same question.

"O Lord, how long shall I cry, and Thou wilt not hear! even cry out unto Thee of violence, and Thou wilt not save!

"Why dost Thou show me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance? for spoiling and violence are before me; and there are that raise up strife and contention.

"Therefore the law is slacked, and judgment doth never go forth; for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore wrong judgment proceedeth."

"And the Lord answereth me," says Habakkuk, "and said: Write the vision, and make it plain upon the tables, that he may run that readeth it.

"For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie; though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not tarry.

"Behold, his sour which is lifted up is not upright in him; but the just shall live by faith."

"Art Thou not from everlasting, O Lord my God, mine holy one?" asks Habakkuk, therefore "we shall not die."

A favorite and very beautiful sentence concludes the second chapter of Habakkuk: "But the Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him."

To keep faith that right will eventually conquer might and wickedness is the lesson Habakkuk has for us in this book. The last two paragraphs of the book of Habakkuk read triumphantly:

"Yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation.

"The Lord God is my strength, and He will make my feet like hinds' feet, and He will make me walk upon mine high places. To the chief singer on my stringed instruments."

MEDAL TO CREW

(International News Service)

LONDON—A special medal is to be struck to celebrate the victory of the British ships Exeter, Ajax and Achilles over the Graf Spee. It will probably show the sinking of the German war vessel on the face with the King's head on the reverse. The ribbon will probably embody the colors of Uruguay, in whose waters the Nazi vessel was sunk. The medal will be issued to all members of the crews of the vessels and the kin of those killed.

Jewish Women At Convention Held In Johnstown, Pa.

Mrs. Louis Cohn Of Butler, Formerly Of New Castle, Succeeds As President For Term

Attending the Pennsylvania Conference of the National Council of Jewish Women at the closing session held at Johnstown this week were Mrs. Irvine Grossman, Mrs. Peter Cohen, Mrs. Jack Lebby and Mrs. J. Raffel.

Mrs. Jack Lieff of Westmont, president of the Johnstown Section, was elected treasurer of the conference, succeeding Mrs. Benjamin Resenblum of Sharon.

Mrs. Louis S. Cohn of Butler and formerly of New Castle, who has been vice president the past year, was elevated to the presidency as successor to Mrs. Lillian S. Geisenberger of York. She is succeeded as vice president by Mrs. Clinton Long of Wilkes-Barre. Delegates to the three day meetings re-elected Mrs. Max Finkelstein of Scranton, as recording secretary and Mrs. Samuel D. Kopelman of Butler was named as corresponding secretary. The latter succeeds Mrs. Harry Weinstock of York.

Newly elected directors are Mrs. Bernard Shair of Scranton, Mrs. Joseph Siberstein of Pittsburgh and Mrs. A. H. Wyberg of Bradford. Mrs. Geisenberger also remains as a member of the board. The staff was installed prior to the close of the convention.

It is estimated upwards of 225 delegates and guests heard Dr. Abram Leon Sachar of Chicago, Ill., speak on "A Credo for Dark Times," at the annual conference banquet. He stressed that "dictators are world menace," and he asked that Americans remain alert, uncalloused.

Dr. Emma Schreiber of New York City, director of the National Council's service to the foreign-born, told delegates that the society has "naturalized" half a million persons during the twenty years it's program of service has been in operation.

The council's resettlement work was related by Mrs. Helen Diamond Cohen of Pittsburgh, and their speaker on the program.

Mrs. Samuel Rapoport of Johnstown Section, was toastmaster.

Suicide Pact Fails

Barbara Kissick

William Fontes

In what was apparently a suicide pact, Barbara Kissick, 19, of Oakland, Cal., died but her former husband, William Fontes, 21, his resolve weakening as exhaust gas fumes filled their car, left the car to get aid and thus escaped death.

ACCEPTS POSITION

Rev. Harold Boon, son of Rev. J. H. Boon, of Brooklyn avenue, has accepted a position as teacher at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Institute at Nyack, New York. He was a graduate of Houghton, New York College, where he taught for one year, prior to accepting the pastorate of the denominational church at Greenville, where he is now located.

Rev. and Mrs. Boon and family expect to take up residence at Nyack, September 1.

Rural Mail Route Inspection Soon

Boxes Should Be Painted, Lettered And Put In First Class Condition

Many minor repairs to the mail boxes on the rural routes services by the Mahoningtown post office should be made as soon as possible, for according to Edwin McBride, superintendent, the annual rural route inspection is scheduled soon.

Boxes should be lettered with the name of the owners and given a fresh coat of paint.

In a number of cases, McBride stated, the boxes need new supports, and these should be erected at a height that would make a convenient reach from the window of an automobile.

Each year, during May, all of the rural mail routes over the United States are inspected, and residents of the routes are urged to keep their boxes in first class condition at all times.

Graham Against Roosevelt Plan

Votes Against Reorganization Plan For Civic Aeronautics Authority

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 10.—Representative Louis E. Graham this week helped administer President Roosevelt a sound trouncing on his reorganization plan placing the Civil Aeronautics Authority under the Department of Commerce.

The president's program will become effective unless vetoed by both the senate and house. The house has already passed a veto by a 232 to 153 ballot. The senate is expected likewise to vote a veto, thereby preventing the CAA shift.

Congressman Graham cast one of the 232 house votes against the transfer.

Air pilots have been opposing the shift upon the grounds it would lower safety standards and endanger life.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

In more than thirty years of country practice I naturally had plenty of diabetic cases to care for. I found careful dieting would often save older people for a few years—if they would obey orders. But as soon as I found sugar in the urine of a child, I knew I had just read the youngster's death warrant.

I remember the same week when Dr. Frederick Banting's discovery of insulin was announced, I was called to a home where a boy of 15 years of age was gradually growing thinner and weaker in spite of a good appetite. As soon as I saw him, I suspected diabetes and sure enough his urine showed the presence of large amounts of sugar. When I saw that, I was saddened for I knew the family well. I thought the boy would be dead within a year. I had read about Banting's discovery and I knew the claims that were being made for insulin, but I had little faith in it. So many miraculous cures are being announced all the time and so few turn out to be any good Besides, at the time it was difficult to get some of the new preparation even for a trial.

I put the boy on a strict diet, but in spite of it the sugar gained ground. and it was plain that the child was rapidly going down hill. Six months went by, we still heard much about insulin, and the boy sank rapidly. Under ordinary conditions, he would only have lasted a month or two longer. Then I was able to get some insulin. I decided there was everything to gain, nothing to lose, by trying it. I had other diabetic patients at the time, but none of them were so far gone as this boy. None were so desperately in need of something in the way of a miracle, so I gave it to him.

It was much less developed then. Injections had to be made frequently and a lot of time had to be spent observing the patient to see whether too much or too little of the insulin had been given. After having seen dozens and dozens of youngsters go on to rapid death when they were at the stage this boy was in, I was never more impressed in my life than by insulin's effect on him. At first, I just couldn't believe what I saw. The boy not only stopped declining, he quickly got better to the point where it was no longer apparent that he had been through a grave illness. Today he is a perfectly healthy member of the community. I don't think many of his friends know that he takes a daily injection of insulin to keep him well.

Many persons still regard insulin as a cure, which it isn't. It is just a product taken to replace the lack of insulin in the system and so long as the system doesn't supply its own insulin, the patient has to keep taking it or else.

In the winter just passed we had a dramatic demonstration of this up here A couple of men went out to a remote part of the country to hunt. One of them had diabetes and he took along a supply of insulin and his hypodermic. They had been away only a short time when the diabetic had the misfortune to break his needle. Right away the other man started in to civilization for another needle It was bitterly cold, many degrees below zero, but he traveled as fast as he could for he knew the danger. Snow was deep and it was two days before he got back with the needle. As soon as he came within sight of the cabin he knew he was too late. There was no smoke rolling out of the chimney and he guessed that the old man must have gone into a coma from lack of insulin. Sure enough, inside he found the body of his friend, frozen to death.

Declare Cash Big Playground Need

City's 11 Centers, Opening Shortly, Lack Equipment Sorely

SETTINGS FINE, BUT THERE STORY ENDS

Unless somebody knows where the money can be dug up shortly, most of the 11 city-sponsored playgrounds in New Castle will be little more than "grounds"—not "playgrounds"—this summer and something like 2,000 youngsters will have to content themselves with sun-baked, dusty and poorly-equipped play centers.

There are playgrounds with bright spots—excellent settings—but most of the 11 get a minus where equipment is concerned.

With local recreational leaders, a reporter of The News toured the recreational centers this week to determine what each playground needs the most. Some have more elaborate facilities than others, but none of them, according to the leaders, are equipped to handle the play demands loaded on them daily.

Turn Away Many

On days that Old Sol lets his heat rays loose, the playgrounds—all of them—turn away large numbers of children, those in charge of the recreation say. That alone is deplorable, for the tots have a right to play!

City counciy has set aside $750 this year for the playground program, and the playground leaders know that the council would appropritae more if it could. The city fathers, they know, went the limit—but they feel other money should be found somewhere.

Frank A. Leonard, WPA recreational supervisor, who directs the city playground activities each summer, and Mrs. Sylvia Sturdevant, member of the governing Recreation board, agree that the city has "ideally located centers" but lacks, in many ways, the equipment, protective fences and other things playgrounds should have.

To Announce Leaders

Leonard within a few days will announce his 1940 playground leaders, and he hopes that one of these days the funds which will buy swings and see-saws (a few anyway) will turn up.

Probably the most attractive playgrounds this summer will be those at Lockley field, on the old Country club property in the Croton district, the West Side grounds back of the Smithfield street fire station, the Albert street playground at the Arthur McGill school, the one in the center of Gaston park and the one at Rose avenue school.

Others this summer will be South Liberty street center, in the shadow of the Pennsylvania railroad roundhouse, Jones park on Moravia street, Rose Bowl between Park and Wallace avenues, the Dean park grounds on a reclaimed East Side dump, the Booker T. Washington Community Center playground off Mahoning avenue (one of the most productive in many ways) and the "Snakes Rest" center, down over the hill from Wilmington avenue.

Germany Asked To Refrain From Bombing Cities

By JOSEPH M. BAIRD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 10—The United States today requested the German government to refrain from bombing "open cities" on an urgent appeal from Belgium, following an aerial bombardment of Brussells, its capital.

The Belgian appeal made by the Belgian foreign Minister to American Ambassador John Cudahy, was relayed to the state department by trans-Atlantic telephone. American Ambassador to London, Joseph P. Kennedy, acted as an intermediary.

The state department also received formal advice, via trans-Atlantic telephone, that Holland has declared war on Germany, following a simultaneous land and air invasion of its territory by Nazi forces. This advice, forwarded by American Minister George A. Gordon added that Holland has asked Britain and France for immediate assistance.

Gordon also reported to the department that the Netherlands border has been crossed by German troops and that military objectives had been bombed by German war planes. Gordon stated that the air field at Waalhaven was one of the German bombing targets.

SOLVES MYSTERY OF 120 HEADLESS ISLAND SKELETONS

(International News Service)

MONA ISLAND, Puerto Rico.—An ancient Puerto Rican has exploded the mystery of Mona Island's 120 headless skeletons.

Last month a group of workers employed on a federal tree-planting project on this island uncovered 120 human skeletons, all without heads. Many theories were advanced, but it was generally believed that the victims met death at the hands of head-hunters or fell prey to pirates who used Mona Island as a base from which they raided treasure ships of the Spanish main.

This week a native returned to Mona Island for the first time in 20 years. He recalled that in 1920 a group of English or American scientists had uncovered the skeletons and had taken the heads with them for study.

Japs Find Gold On Formosa Isle

Expect To Replenish War-Depleted Treasury With New Gold Discovery

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PEKING.—The 1940 Gold Rush to provide Japan with a promised $4,000,000,000 worth of the yellow metal yearly has started. However, it is a free and easy rush such as marked similar fortune hunts elsewhere in the world.

The fever started with the announcement of Professor Hidenosuke Sano of the Tokio Imperial University that a limitless source of gold was present in some 25 hills and streams of the Island of Formosa. This Island is a Japanese possession lying between the northern tip of the Philippines and the coast of China.

The mining engineer made his survey under auspices of the Governor-General of Formosa, and the Tokyo government has just dispatched 200 members of the original of six prospecting groups to the gold area.

Likely Claims Staked Out

For the ordinary fortune seeker there is not a chance since the government of Formosa already has staked out every likely profitable claim.

Roads leading to the richest regions are guarded by police boxes and bootleg prospectors must take to uncharted paths if they would avoid arrest.

ART TREASURES MOVED

(International News Service)

LUCERNE, Switzerland — As a precautionary measure, the most famous art collections in Switzerland, formerly in Basle and Winterthur, have been moved to the interior of the country. The treasures of the local museum and the private collection of Dr. Hahnenloser, well known for its examples of French nineteenth century paintings, have also been removed from Winterthur to Lucerne, where they are now on exhibition.

Dutch East Indies May Provide Crisis In Pacific

(International News Service)

TOKYO, May 10.—Well informed Japanese circles expressed the view today that Europe's widening conflagration will not spread to Asia, but financial quarters feared increased tension between Japan and the United States over the Netherlands East Indies.

(Editor's note: American Secretary of State Hull recently issued a strong diplomatic statement, inferentially warning Japan to keep out of the Netherlands Indies if Holland were invaded.)

The Japanese foreign office adopted a cautious attitude while awaiting further developments.

WASHINGTON, May 10—A tight-lipped navy high command refused today to reveal whether the U. S. fleet will be moved to prevent any possible action against the Netherlands East Indies by Japan.

An invasion of the Netherlands by Germany made the fate of the Dutch Pacific possessions an issue of primary importance to this country, Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison and his admirals kept in closest touch with Admiral J. O. Richardson, fleet commander.

The overnight developments in Europe brought home to the capital full significance of the "surprise order" issued three days ago holding the fleet in Hawaii, just as it was scheduled to steam for American shores after completing maneuvers.

KISS SUGGESTION SWINGS POINTERS OF LIE-DETECTOR

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS. — Indianapolis police added a new instrument to their crime detection apparatus today—a "lie detector" so sensitive that it almost broke down under the emotional reaction of a girl who thought she was about to be kissed.

Describing the device to the Board of Safety, Leonard Keeler, Northwestern University psychologist and inventor of the machine, said he tried it out on his secretary one day.

"Suddenly, I told her I was going to kiss her," the scientist said. "The pointers almost swung off the graph."

Without further ado, the Board decided to purchase the apparatus.

Its inventor said the instrument measures skin resistance, a more delicate indicator of emotional response, in addition to registering respiration and blood pressure.

Parliament May Now Be Recalled

War Developments May Result In Early Call For British Parliament

CHAMBERLAIN TO RETAIN HIS POST

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 10.—Possibility of quick recall of the British parliament into actioin as a result of the German invasion of Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg arose today along with indications that Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain will retain his office while the war crisis remains acute.

It was believed that Chamberlain will clarify his position in a radio broadcast, in which he may explain that events require him to remain in office as long as the present emergency continues.

Nevertheless, authorities predicted that Chamberlain will tell the country he has no intention of standing in the way of any government that may be required and that a necessary change will be carried out as soon as practicable.

May Reconvene Tuesday

Parliament, which recessed last night for the Whitsuntide holidays, now is expected to reconvene on Tuesday, instead of waiting until May 21, as originally planned.

In the event of any immediate governmental change, it was thought likely the procedure will be to appoint a war cabinet under Lord Halifax, now foreign secretary, or First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill, who already has been given direct supervision of Britain's day-by-day war effort.

Other cabinet offices may be left unchanged for the time being.

Meanwhile, virtually all political sides in Britain seemed to agree that the latest German action makes a change in the government imperative.

ALLIED ARMIESE ON WEST FRONT GO INTO ACTION

started rolling into the invaded countries in response to urgent Belgo-Dutch appeals for Anglo-French aid, the home troops of Holland and Belgium had thrown a wrench into the cogs of the Nazi military machine by blowing up bridges and roads.

Up to a late hour this afternoon there was no definite word of any contact between allied armies and the invading German divisions.

It was authoritatively pointed out, however, that for obvious reasons "no information can be given to the movements of French and British troops."

Aerially, the German campaign apparently was a spectacular and at least partially successful undertaking. Airports throughout Holland, Belgium and France were bombed mercilessly, and there was one unconfirmed report that four German incendiary bombs were dropped on the peaceful English town of Chilham near Canterbury.

Allied Planes In Action

In retaliation, British, French, and Belgian airplanes were reported in action over the lowlands, offering the Germans the first real resistance they have encountered since the Nazi invasion of Poland started the war last September.

Britain made immediate and large-scale preparations to repel an expected air attack on England. All Royal Air Force leaves were cancelled, the various air raid precautions services put on an alert basis and the public warned to carry gas masks and acquaint themselves with the positions of air raid shelters.

Late this morning, with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's long expected "Blitzkrieg" actually under way, the situation stood as follows:

Situation At Present

1. Belgium, fully mobilized, was offering the Germans firm resistance along her borders, although the country's airdromes were the helpless prey of death-dealing bombers.

2. Holland, lashed by the fury of German sky fighters, opened her dikes in an effort to stem the invaders' advance. Luxembourg was helpless.

3. Britain and France, in response to urgent appeals, promised the overrun countries all the help in their power.

4. British shipping was being hammered by merciless German air force blows, with bombs dropping the length of the Thames estuary and along the coasts of Britain and France almost without cessation.

5—The important French military air base at Lyon was attacked from the air.

6—Germany justified the invasion on the grounds that British and French armies planned to over-run Holland and Belgium. In addition, the Reich charged that the low countries had failed to preserve their neutrality in demonstrating a dangerous "friendship" for Britain and France.

So far as could be learned, the Germans were attacking military objectives only, although an Exchange telegraph dispatch from Zurich, Switzerland, unconfirmed elsewhere, reported that 400 persons were killed and wounded in an air attack on Brussels.

Vast Nazi Air Attacks

As vast Nazi air squadrons streaked across the lowlands, dropping parachute troops from the skies, Belgium and Holland declared themselves allies of Great Britain and France. Belgium particularly emphasized her determination to resist the attack but the situation in peaceful and poorly-armed Holland was more obscure.

Queen Wilhelmina issued a manifesto stating that her country, now host to former Kaiser Wilhelm whose grey-clad hordes broke loose across the border a little more than 25 years ago, would be defended "to the last man."

The British war cabinet was called into emergency session the moment the storm broke. The heads of all fighting services participated. Observers in 10 Downing street found the ministers, generals and admirals grim but confident—some of them almost cheerful.

Shipping Attacked

Admiral Sir Dudley Pound, first sea lord and chief of the British naval staff, greeted reporters upon leaving Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's residence with these words:

"Well, it's started at last."

At this moment, shipping along the seacoast was being subjected to terrific attack. From dawn onwards, anti-aircraft guns and British fighter planes were constantly in action. Particularly heavy firing was heard from the direction of France.

Heavy detonations were heard as well, indicating that bombs were dropping on airports and military concentrations in northern France.

Along the English south coast there was constant patrol activity by the Royal air force. Constant bursts of anti-aircraft shells could be seen in the skies.

Nazi Machine Guns Command Oslo

Passed by the German censor, this photo is described as German soldiers on guard before the castle of King Haakon, fugitive king of Norway, in Oslo. The machine gun also is advantageously placed to command the street, just in case the inhabitants might not like their "visitors." Two young Norwegians seem more interested in having their picture taken than the fact their country has been invaded.

Hint To U. S. To Give Protection To Greenland

International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A tacit invitation to the United States to protect Greenland from invasion by Germany was presented to President Roosevelt today by the Danish minister, Henrik De Kauffmann.

The Danish minister delivered to Mr. Roosevelt a resolution adopted by the United Greenland Councils, the Danish Province's Parliament, at a meeting at Godhavn on May 3. It read:

"It is our hope that, for as long as we remain cut off from our mother country, the United States Government will continue to hold in mind the exposed position of the Danish flag in Greenland, of the native Greenland and Danish population, and of established public order. We hope that the United States Government, taking into account our isolated geographical position, will facilitate the import of necessities and the export of our products.

"While reiterating to our rightful King Christian X of Denmark, our oath of allegiance, which will be kept unswervingly, we desire in this grave hour to convey to the president of the United States the deep felt thanks of the people of Greenland for the sympathy with our cause and the respect for our freedom which the great American nation has proved amply in these dark days."

Charley Parcanssas

Charley Parcansas, above, of New Orleans, La., who is down in the census books as being 130 years old, says he was too old to fight in the Civil war. "I was 51 when war broke out," says Charley, who claims to have been married 17 times. "Indians and jackasses," he continues, "live longer than anybody. I'm part Indian."

PRAISES PRIVATE SYSTEM

(International News Service)

OAKLAND, Cal.—It wasn't the evidence or the persuasiveness of his attorney which freed James Vienne, 29, of a petty theft charge, he avers. Walking out of the Alameda county courthouse after being acquitted by a jury, Vienne exulted to jailers that his "private system" did the trick. "The jury couldn't do anything else," he claimed. "I did it by mental telepathy. I brought it on by scribbling 'not guilty' hundreds of times on pieces of paper while the jury was deliberating."

Civilians Are Bomb Victims

Heavy Civilian Casualties In Raids On French Towns Reported

PARACHUTISTS LAND AT HAGUE AIRPORT

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, May 10.—Heavy civilian casualties in German bombing raids on French towns and cities were reported in advices received from the British embassy in Paris today.

They were particularly heavy at Nanci, where 16 were killed and 30 injured, mostly civilians.

A raid was carried out on Paris, where there was intense anti-aircraft fire and some casualties from shrapnel. But no bombs were dropped.

Information reaching authoritative circles said that about 200 German parachutists landed at The Hague airport, wearing British uniforms. Others in Dutch uniforms landed at Dordrecht, it was said.

The airport at Calais directly across the English channel from Dover was bombed.

Latest reports said the Belgian and Dutch armies were fighting vigorously.

So far as could be ascertained in London all places bombed in northern France could be considered military objectives.

"In come cases this must be done by considerably stretching the imagination," a spokesman said.

COUNTRY DOCTOR SAWS WOOD AS A WINTER SIDELINE

(International News Service)

BRIDGTON, Me.—A buck-sawing country doctor is Dr. Edward S. Abbott, now in his seventy-sixth year and for fifty-five years Bridgton's village physician.

Dr. Abbott sawed fourteen cords of wood this past winter and has attended the myriad duties of the country doctor, meanwhile.

During his career he has delivered 850 babies and he hopes to continue at the work until he's over a hundred. He feels confident he can pass the century mark because he hasn't been sick for a quarter of a century and "feels better as time goes on."

During the height of Babe Ruth's career as the home-run king of baseball, the doctor decided to match the Babe's record against his own babes.

"I trimmed the Babe with the babes," he said. "He pilled up 76 home runs that year and I delivered 40 babies which, after all, is a big crop for any country doctor in a small place like Bridgton.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS GIVEN THE BALLOON TEST IN MICHIGAN

(International News Service)

EAST LANSING, Mich.—The old test of walking a chalk line is unscientific in Michigan.

Now one has to blow up a balloon if the law thinks there has been too much imbibing to sit behind the wheel.

According to Dr. Le Moyne Snyder, legal-medical adviser for the state police, the ballon test works like this:

The policeman offers a ballcon and orders:

"Blow—but hard!"

The balloon air will then be forced into a tube containing sulphuric acid and potassium permanganate. If the mixture turns violet, alcohol is present in the "blower's" bloodstream.

And if there is .15 per cent of alcohol by weight in one's blood, the official classification is a drunk driver, who, according to statistics, is 55 times more likely to have an accident than a sober driver.

Dr. Snyder dismissed the walking-a-line test on the grounds that the walking might be just fine out the reaction time could still be pretty terrible.

EXPEDITION TO SEEK RUINS OF ANCIENT CITY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO—Ruins of the ancient city of Washshukani, capital of Mitanni, a powerful state of the eastern world in about 1,500 B. C., will be the object of a search to be made by the Theodore Marriner Memorial Expedition, which is being sent to the near east by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago.

The expedition, first to leave the United States for the Near East since the start of the European war is headed by Dr. Calvin W. McEwan, research associate in the Oriental institute.

The group plans to investigate Tell Fakhir, a huge mound near the town of Ras el-Ain, which is close to the Turkish border. The mound, according to Dr. McEwan, represents a 3,000 year span of civilization. An arab cemetery is situated on its top.

CATTLE RUSTLING IS STILL RAMPANT IN WEST TODAY

(International News Service)

SANTE FE, N. M.—The "wild and wooly" days of the west which give verve to romantic fiction, actually had less cattle rustling than is rampant in this modern day and age.

Paul Ragle, Sante Fe representative of the New Mexico Cattle Sanitary Board reported 17 cases of rustling within the last two months have been prosecuted in the First Judicial Court alone with other cases pending.

The modern rustler has departed from the stealth of running off herds under cover of darkness in best movie and fiction manner. He uses, instead, high-powered trucks.

By PIERE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 1.—In a series of rapid-fire thrusts by land, air and water, German troops surged into Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg today after carrying out "devastating" bombing raids on airports in those countries and France.

At 7:45 p. m. (1:45 p. m. E. D. T.), the German high command announced swift progress on the wide western front and claimed the recapture of Malmedy, a former Germany city given to Belgium by the peace treaties after the last war.

MISSOURI 'ANGEL' SHOWERS MONEY ON STATE GROUPS

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—An "angel" has been showering not "pennies from heaven" but thousands of dollars on Springfield.

His or her identity remains a mystery.

The American Legion Home was the first institution to receive an unexpected windfall when a cashiers check for $1,250 arrived. A note instructed that the money be used to pay off the $1,248 mortgage.

Shortly afterwards, a check for $10,000 was sent to the Burge Hospital. Then $500 checks were received by the Red Cross, Woinen's Christian Temperance Union and the South Street Christain Church.

The Boy Scouts and the Girl Scouts were remembered with $50 each.

Officials of the benefited institutions and organizations say that they have no idea as to who the "angel" is.

SEES RICH INDIA MARKET OPEN FOR AMERICAN INROADS

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO.—The potentially vast and rich trade market of India is wide open for American commercial enterprise, principally because of the European war, declared Sirdar Hardit Singh Malik, India trade commissioner to the United States.

Arriving for a tour of Pacific Coast business and maritime centers on behalf of his government, the commissioner reported:

"India's trade with the United States last year was well over $100,000,000 and this year will probably be even greater, for much of our former commerce with Europe has been shut off since the war started."

"We are particularly interested in such commodities as radios' autos and refrigerators."

Japan's exports to India have dropped radically since beginning of the undeclared Sino-Japanese war, he said, and are being replaced largely by American goods.

NETHERLANDS DEFENSIVE FLOODING

If the dykes in the Netherlands are open, defensive flooding would damage the farm lands, and necessitate the evacuation of thousands of residents, but the water would not be sea water, it would be fresh water from the rivers, or the old Zuyder Zee, now called Ijssel lake. Name Hartman As Police Chief

Council Votes 6-4 For Lieutenant At Meeting Thursday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, May 10.—Breaking a 5-5 deadlock that has stalemated Council for several months, night lieutenant, Ernest V. Hartman, was elected chief of police by a 5 to 4 vote last night at the stated May meeting. The deciding ballot of the burgess, as had been expected, was not necessary. Present chief, C. W. Morrison received four votes.

The members were unable to come to an agreement as to when the new chief would take office but it was finally agreed to have the present force serve intact at the present salary rate until further action is taken by the body. A motion by Lanzi that Morrison be named captain of police lost with those voting affirmatively being Lanzi, Biordi and Habart. It is understood that the present chief wants to be named a member of the desk force.

Councilman Howell said that the desk force works every day in the month and when one man is off, the other two work 12 hours each. "I don't think its fair," he added and asked the police committee to make a recommendation.

A recommendation by Councilman Lanzi that Elmer Frishkorn serve as a police officer to eliminate unlawful peddling was approved. He will receive twenty dollars a month for the service, in addition to his usual salary.

Other Council Matters

Believing the stop light at Second street and Franklin avenue is a necessary safeguard for pedestrians, the boro manager was instructed by Council to ask the state highway department to withdraw their order requiring the discontinuance of the light.

A recommendation that the boro manager investigate the obtaining of another dump site outside the boro for tin cans and other non-combustible articles was passed. An amendment that the health committee be included in investigating a site failed to find a second.

An ordinance calling for the removal of the garbage disposal plant to property outside the boro was passed on second reading while an ordinance passed on first reading last month calling for the purchase of land outside the boro for the erection of a garbage disposal plant lost on second reading by a 6 to 4 vote. Mr. Monroe said an incinerator would cost about $40,000.

Other members said that the obnoxious odor in the fourth ward near the plant was caused by the garbage dump and not the disposal plant. These ordinances had been prepared as preliminary steps toward a free garbage collection ordinance.

All dirt streets will be oiled when they are properly graded, the boro manager stated.

To Pave Streets

Passed on first and final reading, the grading, curbing and paving of Third street near Division avenue and Perry street from Division avenue to the boro line. They will be submitted to the W. P. A. for approval. Calling for the paving of 13th street from Center to Lawrence avenue, an ordinance was approved on third and final reading.

A report of the finance committee stated that no action was suggested in the recommendation of a salary increase for the posting and billing clerk and no action was suggested for additional funds for playground equipment until the amount of the board of education grant is announced. This committee also suggested that the fire alarm circuit in Ewing Park, now controlled through the Tube company department, be handled directly by the boro.

The fire committee recommended that the rescue squad equipment be limited to a fifteen mile radius of the city. In an emergency, the equipment may be used at a greater distance, it was stated.

Insurance bids for property damage and public liability for the boro motor vehicles was referred to the rules and regulations committee and bids for a truck for the street department and bids for ameisite were given to the proper committees for study.

A resolution that the boro manager attend a sewage works conference in June at State College was passed and a majority of the members will attend the boro convention to be held in June at State College.

A case contesting the validity of the barbers' ordinance is before the county court and the boro solicitor was instructed to appear before the court to represent the boro.

Total fines, costs and forfeits amounted to $62 and the damage from fire during the month of April was $10. Tax collections for 1938 amounted to $846 and for 1939 to $94.

Will Re-Assign 7th Grade Pupils

ELLWOOD CITY, May 10. — A preliminary survey based on the number of pupils now enrolled in school, indicates our enrollment next fall should be about 3,827. Allowing for the usual number of pupils in the spring who do not return in the fall, the actual enrollment will probably be nearer 3,750. The enrollment last September was 3,741.

The first grade enrollment for next year will be about 195, this is a decrease of about 40 pupils over previous years. However the Junior and Senior High School enrollment is on the increase.

It wil be necessary to keep the entire seventh grade in the elementary buildings next fall. One group will be in the North Side building, one group in the Ewing Park building, and six groups in the Hartman building. There are now two groups in the North Side building, who will be in the seventh grade next year. One of these will remain there, the other will have to be split between Ewing Park and the Hartman building. Approval of the Board to reassign these pupils was given.

Educational Value Of Scout Movement

Should Be Available To Every Boy And Girl, Says J. Ellis Bell

ELLWOOD CITY, May 10—J. Ellis Bell, superintendent of Ellwood schools, gives views on scouting as follows:

"Scouting, like free public education, should be available to every boy and girl who can profit from it's program. It is just another step in the process of preparing our girls and boys to meet the responsibilities of adult citizenship. It cannot supplant the work of the public schools but it certainly can supplement it. The school program, with its broad field of training in the cultural and practical aspects of living, is doing a good job. However it's program is so crowded that it is impossible to find time for expression and development of the individual activities and interests that are so essential in creating happy contented citizens. The Scout movement has provided and set-up a program whereby youth can find free expression for individual interests as well as learn the values of cooperative effort.

"Individual initiative takes on new meaning to the boy and girl when freed from the four walls of the traditional classroom, and the discipline of the school. Under supervision of trained scoutmasters, boys and girls learn to meet real life situations considerably similar to the ones ancient man had to meet. The experience gained in solving these situations, whether it is over-coming the elements of nature, or fitting themselves into a complex cooperative civilization, is the type of training that makes for good citizenship.

"Financing this type of education has always been a difficult problem, for the amount that can be invested depends solely on the generosity of the citizens of a community. Many citizens of Ellwood City have long realized the value of scout work and as a consequence the program here is one of which our citizens can well be proud. Let us not overlook the importance of this program to our city and let us give it wholehearted financial support."

PROFITABLE RING CAREER

The Ring Magazine says that Joe Louis has collected $1,551,332 for his professional fights.

Prehistoric caverns and human bones, including a well preserved skull, were found on Mount Circe, where Ulysses' sailors, according to mythology, were turned to swine.

FIND EARLY ROOSTING AID TO CHICK HEALTH

Normal growth is fostered and a disease control measure is placed in practice when chicks are given opportunity to roost at three to four weeks of age.

Such chicks learn to do without heat sooner, are hardened off more rapidly, feather out quickly, and are less subject to the crowding or sweating which often occurs in groups of chicks that sleep on the brooder house floor, even after the brooder heat has been removed.

When roost perches are screened, the bulk of the droppings fall through and there is less opportunity for chicks to come in contact with disease organisms in the droppings. Sloping perches of 2x1 inch material with the 2-inch side up for roosting purposes may be placed 12 to 18 inches from the floor at the rear wall and then run out to a short distance from the hover.

These roosts may be made portable by providing triangular pieces and covering both ends and the back with inch-mesh wire screen. Heavier gauge wires give more permanent service than the lighter wires, even though the initial cash outlay is slightly greater. Portable roosts can be placed wherever desired in rooms of varying sizes, depending on the kind of brooding equipment used.

Chicks can be taught to roosts more quickly when there is wire under the perches. At dusk or later in the evening they can be driven onto the perches and the wire with the aid of bags, brooms, and a flashlight. When all are on the roosting area the light can be removed. After a few nights, or a week at the most, the majority of the chicks will be found occupying the perches.

PEACH BROWN ROT SPORES SHOOT IN EARLY ORCHARDS

Peach brown rot spores started to mature the week of April 22 in the section from York to Delaware counties in southeastern Pennsylvania.

Observations in areas where spring weather had advanced the trees the most of anywhere in the state revealed a heavy crop of spores developing.

Most of the brown rot spores come from the old peach mummies lying on uncultivated ground. The spores are shot from the inside of little goblet-shaped mushroom-like growths on these mummies. Thousands of spores are thus released.

Cultivation checks the development of the little goblet-shaped mushroom-like growths. Peach growers who cannot cultivate where brown rot is present because of cover crops or soil erosion are urged to apply a sulphur spray in the pink stage.

TIMELY GARDEN POINTS

Cold, wet weather this spring has been very unfavorable for early planting of vegetables. Planting is about one month behind the normal schedule.

Despite lateness of the season, it does not pay to plow and fit gardens when the soil is wet, especially heavy soils composed largely of clay. Most garden seed is small and the seedbed must be prepared as fine as possible to allow many soil particles to come in contact with the seed. This is not possible in a lumpy soil. A medium-dry soil, well prepared, may be slightly firmed after covering the seed. If the soil is too wet, firming will cause a hard crust to form when the soil dries.

Some gardeners have difficulty in securing a uniform stand of plants from seeds which germinate slowly, such as carrots and parsnips. Two reasons are responsible: a crust forms over the row through which the seedlings cannot penetrate, and the surface inch or two of soil may dry enough to kill the germinating seed.

These conditions may be eliminated by mulching lightly after planting to conserve moisture and maintain a soft surface. Boards also may be lain on the row for the same purpose and removed when the seedlings are about ready to appear above ground. This requires watching.

Lettuce and carrots often are seeded too thickly in spite of precautions. To avoid overseeding, the seed may be mixed with sand, half and half or one-third seed and two-thirds sand, and the mixture sown.

EARLY SPRAYS IMPORTANT IN APPLE SCAB CONTROL

Early sprays are the most important measures in apple scab control. The battle against scab is either won or lost by the spraying program followed through the pre-blossom and petal fall sprays.

Pre-blossom sprays prevent initial infections which originate in spores shot from old leaves. Occurrence of rainy weather determines which of these sprays is most important because the infection occurs only during wet weather. Where early sprays are omitted and infection occurs, scab spores multiply several thousand times, It often has been demonstrated that scab control is impossible when heavy infections occur.

Growers seeding good control of apple scab will follow recommendations for early sprays including the petal fall this year.

LAND DRAINAGE SHOWS VALUES THIS SPRING

The late spring has emphasized the value of good drainage.

Plowing has not been delayed by wet seepy spots where these have been tapped by well-laid intercepting tile drains. Pond holes often require careful leveling in order to be drained most economically without excessive ditching through ridges. Winter heaving also is less noticeable on well-drained soil of many types.

These points and many others are covered in Circular No. 112, "Drain the Wet Spots", published by the Pennsylvania State College agricultural Extension service and available at the Agricultural Extension Office No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

GOOD HEALTH RIGHTFUL HERITAGE OF CHILDREN

Health has often been called the wealth of a nation. Since the children today are the adults of tomorrow, each year the first part of May one day has been set aside as Child Health Day. What will this day mean to the mothers in Pennsylvania?

It should be a day for every mother to check to see if she is doing her share in building healthy boys and girls, says Miss Julia Markle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county.

Although health depends on so many things, the right foods in the right amounts form one of the keystones of health.

Childhood is the time when the choice of foods is most important. A good supply of building foods, with meals planned to include liberal amounts of minerals and vitamin foods, is most essential.

Are you giving your children the right foods. Check the following list, suggests Miss Markle. Do you include daily?

1 quart of milk for each child.
1 egg.
1 serving of meat, fish, poultry, or dried peas or beans.
1 serving of whole grain cereal.
1 serving of whole grain bread.
1 serving of tomato juice or orange juice.
1 serving of a canned, dried, or fresh fruit in addition.
1 serving of potatoes.
3 pats of butter.
2 servings of vegetables, one of which is green or raw.

A fish oil, such as cod liver, halibut liver oil, or other preparations, such as viosterol, containing vitamin D.

We can only truly celebrate child Health Day when every child in Lawrence county has these foods not only one day but 365 days in the year.

Right foods in the right amounts is one foundation of health, believes Miss Markle. Why not give our children their rightful heritage?

ELM DISEASE IS THREAT TO TREES

HARRISBURG—Since the Dutch Elm disease is seriously threatening the destruction of elm trees, health in elms becomes a very important factor in preventing the destruction of these trees in Pennsylvania according to the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

The disease has spread over an alarming area in Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania and has been found in a number of other states including Indiana, Maryland, Ohio, Virginia and West Virginia.

Sickly elms should be pruned and fertilized to restore their vigor and health. If they cannot be restored to health they should be removed and burned.

AROUND CITY HALL

There was committed to council Thursday upon request of Safety Director D. O. Davies, a bill amounting to $12.45, submitted by Mrs. Eleanor Wilkins, 808 North Mercer street, who fell May 20, 1939, at North Mill and North street. She asserted the cement curb had crumbled. She was injured and also had clothing damaged.

Safety Director D. O. Davies and Fire Chief J. E. Thomas reported to council that in their opinion it would be hazardous for St. Johns United Holy Church of America to canstruct a wooden tabernacle at 1005 Moravia street. It would be too close to other buildings, they opined. The request was refused.

When council convened in the city building Thursday, upon motion of Street Director W. H. Dunlap that body authorized the city to advertise for a new or rebuilt three-quarter power shovel, required, it was stated for excavation of the Big Run stream and also for other city-WPA projects. The city has been renting shovels. Because the cost would exceed $500, and council can make arrangements to pay on the installment plan, Dunlap believed it most desirable to make the proposed purchase legal by having council authorize the purchase.

James L. Fink, finance director for the city of New Castle, today reported city expenditures during April, as follows:

Seven Years Efforts Fail To Solve Farm Problem Says Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1940, Publishers Financial Bureau)

CHICAGO, May 10.—Nowhere but in the running of a country could a management spend three billion dollars, accomplish nothing, and get away with it! Yet the New Deal still has the edge in the great farm states where the agricultural problem is as unsolved today as in 1934 despite the billions spent to solve it. Nub of the farm dilemma is the gap between what the farmer receives for the products he sells and what he pays for the goods he buys. This gap is still nearly as wide as it was six years ago.

BABSON

I doubt if many voters realize the number of different government schemes to help the farmers and how much these plans cost. There are crop subsidies, cheap mortgages, seed loans, storage aid, soil conervation, parity payments in a score of different forms. Before it adjourns, congress will probably appropriate for farm aid $200,000,000 more than the president's liberal recommendations. This will wipe out the savings painfully pared from ten other appropriation bills! It is estimated that the total cost of farm aid for 1940-41 will be over $1,000,000,000—more than the entire amount the Federal government spent for all purposes in any year up to the World War!

Prices Still Low

Three billion dollars have been ladled out to farmers in direct government payments since 1934. Yet, their unhappy plight is still unsolved. The war has boosted the price of a few farm products such as corn and wheat. On the whole, however, farm products on the average are not much firmer today than they were in 1934 when the AAA got under way. While the expenses of the Department of Agriculture for the coming year may set a new all-time record, the seven-year attempt to "purchase" farm prosperity has been a dismal failure!

Because of the unbridled spending, there must be some fancy juggling of figures in Washington this year. Otherwise the treasury's bills will exceed the federal debt limit of $45,000,000,000. Either this debt limit must be marked up or taxes must be boosted; although this year the government may take a short cut by using the paper profits made by certain departments. Continuing these huge agricultural outlays only hastens the day when congress must boost taxes for both farm and factory. And higher taxes will raise further the prices of city-made goods which the farmer says he already cannot afford to buy.

Subsidies Here to Stay

Seven years of fruitless handouts ought to prove to even the hardest-to-convince that farm prosperity cannot be legislated or bought. However, one does not have to look far to find the reason for congress' great concern for the farmers again this year. Certain farm groups are well-organized and speak for big blocs of voters. The politicians have their big feet planted solidly in the farm problem and it will be no easy task to yank them out. Handouts and subsidies will bulk large in "farm economics" for years to come. Government checks will continue to be stuffed into R. F. D. mail boxes.

There is nothing unusual in the procedure. I am not blaming the farmers. Other groups are "getting theirs". Why should the farmers be shy at "handout time"? But the farm problem will never be solved by subsidies, benefits, relief. It will only go from bad to worse until nature's laws of rewards and punishments are allowed to function freely. Perhaps if farmers should organize into strong unions and force their prices up artificially just as labor has done, it might bring both the unions and the politicians to their senses!

New Uses Needed

Basically, however, the answer lies in finding new industrial uses for farm products; but this solution is too far off, too intangible to satisfy the politicians. Consequently, billions more will be spent in trying to buy farm prosperity (and incidentally the farm vote). Again I say that only in a government could a management spend $3,000,000,000 and, without showing any results, get away with it! Or can they? November 5 will tell the story. It will be a vital story, too, because the election of 1940 will be the most significant since 1860!

So much for farm politics; but let me add another word. As I traveled during the past week through our great central west, I wondered whether any of us should complain. Conditions at their worst in America are better than in any other country in the world. And of this I know because I have visited most of them. As I saw the sun rise over the great fertile plains of Illinois, blessed with an abundance of seed, rain and freedom, I said a prayer of thankfulness and resolved—whaever might come to me—I shall never complain!

Latest Nazi Thrust Brings Demand For Action On U. S. Defense

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON May 10—Germany's newest military thrust brought an immediate congressional demand for rapid and vigorous rearmament today.

Sen. Thomas (D) Okla., who is in charge of the administration's 1941 military supply bill said:

"We should take such steps as we would if this country were already at war. That does not mean that we will get into a war but is a question or adequate defense. From what I see today we ought to get our military in shape immediately—cost what it may—to meet any condition that war might bring.

"We'd better spend now than later."

New Drug Store Opens Saturday

Pay-Less Drug Store At Mill And Washington Streets To Open

New Castle's newest drug store—the "Pay-less" drug store—formally opens at the city's principal downtown corner, Washington and Mill streets, Saturday morning at 8.

New it will be in more ways than one—for one thing the shoppers, for the first time here, will serve themselves in their own convenient fashion, although clerks will be on hand to assist patrons. It's an innovation in retail drug merchandising!

Store Well Illuminated

Customers will shop in a store attractively illuminated with new fluorescent lighting—and showered, in addition, with outside light. Price tags on articles, plainly displayed, will afford buyers a chance to know the cost with just one glance.

Manager of the new store will be a former New Castle young man, Thomas Casey, Jr.

Tonight at 7:15, a formal opening broadcast will be conducted over WKST direct from the store. Mayor Charles B. Mayne will be one of the speakers. Here for the program and tomorrow's opening is John W. Huff, Pittsburgh, representing officials of the firm.

Manager Casey stressed that the "Pay-less" name for the store means exactly that—"you'll pay less here," he said.

Many Departments

Departments include those for nationally-known drugs, cosmetics, first aid supplies, electrical goods, home remedies, sick room supplies, cigars and pipes and tobacco and candy. Ultra-modern, the store will have two cashiers to complete the purchases of customers.

Attractive souvenirs will be furnished men and women purchasers Saturday, it was announced.

A staff of almost 12 clerks, several of them from New Castle, has been employed for the store's operation.

Washington Is Deeply Shocked

Blitzkrieg On Holland And Belgium Shock To State Department

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 10—President Roosevelt moved swiftly today to protect the Nazi-invaded low countries of Europe from loss to Germany of their holdings in the United States.

The State Department informed meanwhile that German planes had bombed Brussels, the capital of Belgium, formally requested that Nazi government to refrain from bombing "open cities." The request was made on an urgent appeal from the Belgian government.

The American government plainly regarded Germany as an invader of neutral countries. Officials were shocked by the Blitzkrieg. A white house spokesman declared the German assault on the low countries "speaks for itself as to who was invaded." A state department spokesman announced that Brussels had been bombed three hours before Berlin claimed it had "irrefutable evidence" that the allies planned an attack on Holland.

The president, during the early morning hours, ordered his principal diplomatic, army and navy advisers to a 10:30 a. m. white house conference. His advisers disclosed the conference would deal with immediate extension of the American neutrality regulations to cover the latest expansion of the second world war.

Favor Ambers Over Jenkins

Lightweight Title At Stake Tonight In New York City Scrap

"TEXAS LOU" HAS GOOD RIGHT HAND

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 10.—Paying no heed at all to the fact that Texas Lew Jenkins can spatter your intellect all over the premises with one pot shot from his right hand, the people who are supposed to know all about such things have established Lou Ambers as a 13 to 5 favorite to successfully defend his world lightweight championship tonight. The scene will be Madison Square Garden and the gate receipts are expected to crowd beyond $50,000.

Coming on the heels of heavyweight fiascos, the bout is a natural, bringing together a champion who is game and tough and clever against a game and tough challenger who can hit. The former has never been knocked out or even stopped. The latter has suffered such embarrassments due to a tenderness around the eyes, and on this account many predict that Ambers will slice Jenkins into a technical knockout before the 15 rounds have wended their way to a finish.

Depends On Stamina

The big question insofar as Ambers is concerned is whether he will enter the ring at full strength. He still can make the division limit of 135 pounds all right, but not without considerable effort and inasmuch as his whole welfare in a battle depends upon his speed and stamina and strength some question what he will be doing after seven or eight rounds.

After workouts yesterday Ambers scaled 136 1-4 and therefore must take off 1 1-4 pounds despite the fact that he already was in good shape. Jenkins experienced no difficulty in getting down to the limit.

It wil be punch against speed and cleverness and experience. We favor the latter and, therefore, Ambers.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Among those who came here yesterday for the Legion banquet was Charlie Dunn, Ambridge, a former lightweight of this city. Charlie had a rugged physique, could give and take and carried a good sock. He fought all the leading lightweights in this section and the writer handled him for Jimmie Dime in many of his battles. After Dunn left this section he fought many more bouts and scored a large number of knockouts. He served during the World war. He is married and is getting along fine. He visited The News then circulated among his former friends, Sully the barber, Tom McMahon, Tommy Jones and others once prominent in local fisticuffs.

Bowling 100 games and winning 82 of them in 12 hours and 45 minutes while averaging 220.8 is the chief claim to fame of Hank Reider, Dubuque, Ia., ten-pinner who claims the world's endurance bowling record. In these 100 games Hank scored games of 299, two 279s, 278, and seven other games over 250. He had 10 errors in the entire series. His three high consecutive games totaled 783 and his high five consecutive games totaled 1,261, the A. B. C. bulletin reports. Total pins were 22,080. The above achievement is but one of the many endurance tenpin matches in which Reider has taken part. In close to 5,000 games of this type bowling Reider has averaged slightly over the 200 mark.

How quick one can be shoved fotward is seen in the anouncement that Ossie Harris will fight Fritzie Zivic one week from Tuesday night in Pittsburgh. Ossie is the former amateur who met Sully Tonti in the Arena. Sully was yanked from the ring by his seconds who figured Harris was too good for him. Zivic is an experienced ringster and ought to cop over Harris.

Don Budge will head district stars who will conduct a tennis clinic at Grove City college, May 21. . . . Allegheny won over Pitt in tennis, Thursday. . . . Geneva won in golf and at the nets from W & J and Grove City at the Ellwood City Country club. . . . Buddy Baer and Val Campolo will fight in the New York, June 6. Pat Comiskey and Steve Dudas will meet in a return bout. Dudas won the first go.

Knockout May Terminate Bout

Taylor And Saunders, Both Punchers, Meet Monday In Return Bout

OTHER POSSIBLE 'KAYOES' ANTICIPATED

It would not be surprising were a knockout dealt when George Saunders, light-heavyweight of Youngstown and Milt Taylor 175, of Cecil meet in a return three round A. A. U. bout one of eight, in The Arena, Monday night.

In their first encounter Taylor was rolled like a rug in the first for a count of nine and in the second stanza Taylor flattened Saunders and the gong sounded at five.

Fans liked the embroglio so well they requested the Jefferson Athletic club to remate the pair which was done only after considerable bickering upon the part of the fighters supporters.

Other fights in which a "kayo" may occur are:

Frankie Karik, Youngstown vs. Regis O'Brien, McKeesport, 147.

Wesley Rodgers, Grove City vs. Billy Reale, Castlewood, 160.

Clinton Brown, Grove City vs. Al Dundee, Cecil, 116.

Russell Baxter, New Castle vs. Tony De Prim, Youngstown, 147.

Karik is a good socker. Rodgers and Reale lack science and depend upon "Sunday punches" or wild swings, one of which is apt to land upon a vulnerable spot.

Baxter Fights Ohio Boy

Russell Baxter unfurled a knockout in Niles several nights ago and because De Prim is also a novice either is apt to win here. Dunee and Brown also will provide a lot of looping blows.

Mike Candella, G. G. champ at 128 will fight Julius Walt of Cecil. There should be plenty of class in this bout and Eddie Manno of McKeesport is expected to give Billy Murray, Cecil's scientific featherweight a real "go."

The fighters will abandon strenuous training in favor of light work, such as rope-skipping, shadow-boxing, road work and other loosening up exercise beginning Saturday to escape possible pre-fight injuries.

According to the Jefferson Athletic club fight officials the Saunders vs. Taylor battle has the fans agog and it would not be surprising were the Arena to be required to hang out a "S. R. O." sign Monday night.

Radiator Duxpin League Banquet Is Enjoyable One

Forty Attend Annual Dinner To Windup Bowling League For 1940 Season

FINE SPEAKING PROGRAM HEARD

With 40 in attendance the National Radiator duxpin bowling league was brought to a successful end last night at the Sylvan Heights golf course clubhouse with a delicious chicken dinner being consumed. The party began at 6:30 o'clock.

The event numbered among the finest that has ever been held at the Heights clubhouse and the men thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the occasion. The "A" Series team was honored for having won the championship this year. Ralph Bolsinger, assistant secretary of the Radiator Corporation, who had been invited, was unable to be present but sent a nice letter to the men expressing his regrets and congratulating them on their fine league.

Fine Speaking Program

With the eating end of the program out of the way the next hour was taken up by speeches. Jack MacGonigle of the Radiator office staff introduced Charles "Bugs" Walther of The News sport staff as toastmaster of the occasion.

Jack McCoy, local bowling alley owner, was the first speaker called on and he responded with a fine talk telling the men that the Radiator Duxpin league is one of the oldest if not the oldest league in town, having been organized back in 1925.

Others of the Radiator Works called on for talks were: President of the league Titus Monath, Kenneth MacDonald, secretary-treasurer of the league; Steve Shaftic of the winning team, Vic Bottorf, C. C. Covert of the office force, Ray Bales, Jack MacGonigle, J. E. Colbert, master mechanic at the Radiator Works, and Clint Keagy, Consolidated Rubber company salesman of New Castle and Pittsburgh.

See Oil Pictures

Also appearing on the speaking program were three representatives of the Socony-Vacuum Oil company at Pittsburgh—Jim Ballentyne of the Pittsburgh office, "Tubby" Reynolds, industrial salesman, and Larry Lovitt, lubrication engineer. The evening was concluded by the showing of an oil film by the Pittsburgh men which the Radiator men enjoyed. Following the showing of the pictures on how oil is beneficial to industry, the remainder of the evening was spent informally by the men.

Sports World Ramblings

Local niblets . . . Some of that American Bowling Congress prize money will go to several Lawrence county keglers. So far, three members of the Ellwood City team will receive some of the green fodder. Nick Loss comes in for three awards while Boyd Zeigler and Bert Kerstetter are listed for one prize. . . .

Loss cut in on the all events list by posting a 1,797 count; a prize winning 633 in the singles and helped out in a 1,148 doubles score. Zeigler was his partner. Kerstetter will be compensated for a 573 single score. The Ellwood team got a tough break, missing a team prize by a mere 37 pins. The local bowlers tumbled 2,601 sticks. The lowest score to cash in was 2,636.

A news release from Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, shows that Ross Bridenbaugh, son of Phil H. Bridenbaugh, New Castle High's athletic coach, will flaunt the school colors in the Middle Atlantic AA meet, Saturday in Easton. Ross is slated to compete in the high hurdles event. . . .

With the New York Yanks establishing a nose dive to end all nose dives, several readers put us on the spot. They want us, imagine that, to furnish the inside stuff. They want to know "how's come", the champs sinking like a submarine. One asks, "are they laying down?" Another, "are they trying to make a close American League race?" Still another, "have they been told to lay low?" . . .

Considering the green cabbage involved and the reputation of the game, it's unfair to accuse any member of the major leagues of laying down, not trying, endeavoring to make a close race or anything else. Despite the supremacy of the Yanks during the past several seasons, the customers still filed passed the turnstiles. So why should they lay low?

If we may venture an opinion, we believe the Yanks started off on the wrong foot during spring training. The Yanks were run down before the season started, playing in practically all nooks below the Mason-Dixon line. By the time the season started, the players were tired. This, coupled with the fact that Joe DiMaggio wasn't around and a major slump at the beginning of the season, sums up the performance of the champs. . . .

We do not mean to take away credit which is justifiably due the conquerors of the Yanks. Southpaw pitching has always troubled the Yanks more than anything else. This spring, those crooked arm boys, nine of them, were hot when they faced the Yanks. In conclusion, we urge these Yankee rooters not to become too alarmed. That old saying, "the cream always comes to the top", has never missed at least it shouldn't. . . .

Forty Present For Casting Lessons

With 40 present the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association's latest venture, fly and bait casting lessons at Cascade park lake last night, proved a very nice thing. Many novices who had never seriously cast before were present.

The instructors were George W. Conway, Jr., and Jim Buckner. Next Thursday another casting clinic will be held. A peculiar incident occurred last night when one young novice cast into the water and pulled out a large bullfrog with a steel trap attached to its foot. The frog was promptly freed by the young lad.

Giants Defeat Pirates 17 To 6

Believe Pirates Beset By Internal Strife, Feller Tames New York Yanks

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 10—The Pittsburgh Pirates have not won a battle in nine engagements fought and speculation was rife in Pittsburgh today that Manager Frankie Frisch who took over the listless Corsair crew at the beginning of this season was having internal dissension.

Yesterday the New York Giants walloped the Pittsburghers 17 to 6, the losers making seven errors.

Brooklyn beat Chicago, 4 to 1, in ten innings. Tex Carleton of the Dodgers, who silenced the heavy bombing of the Cincinnati Reds with no-hits the last time out, was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

Walters Wins Fifth

Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds turned in his fifth win in subduing Boston 4 to 1, and the Cardinals trounced the Phillies 8 to 4.

In the American League New York Yankees lost their six straight contest, 4 to 0, to Cleveland, with Bob Feller pitching three-hit ball. Boston clung to first place when it nosed out Detroit, 6 to 5; Washington sent Chicago back into seventh place by lacing the Sox 8 to 4, and St. Louis changed places with the Philadelphia A's in the club standing when they won from brotherly lovers, 4 to 2. The Browns are now in fourth place and the Athletics in fifth.

City-Industrial Bowling Loops Enjoy Banquet

One Hundred And Fifty Participate In Twin Fete At Eagles

B & O AND EAGLES TENPIN CHAMPIONS

Approximately 150 bowlers in the City and Industrial Tenpin leagues last night attended their first twin banquet in the F. O. E. hall and when they had finished an attacked on a dinner excellently prepared by Carm Navarro and his force of aides they heard Pat Kearns, master of ceremonies read a list of their accomplishments during the past season.

Kearns dealt first with the Industrial league, stating that Langs had won the first half and the B. and O. came through in the second half. In the roll-off, the railroaders copped the championship. In the City loop, McCormick's F. P.'s took the first half, the F. O. E. the second half and in the play-off, the Eagles emerged winners. James Thomas served as City league president and J. D. Thompson headed the Industrial circuit.

In the Industrial loop first half M. Motsko was high for three games with 656, and George Shook high for one game with 277. The team high went to West Pittsburg and high for a single game was won by Langs. George Shook, Earl McCormick, Pat Kearns and James Thomas were the high average bowlers. McCormick won high for three games in the second half and also won individual high for one game with 257 pins. The B. and O. won high for three games and also for one game. Robinson, Shook and McCormick were high average men in the second half.

City Loop Statistics

In the first half of the City Tenpin league, McCormick5s F. P's finished first. High for three games went to Pat Kearns with 661 pins. In behalf of the league Kearns presented a gift to "Mugsy" Clark, who soon is to be married. Lex McCormick, a trustee, in behalf of the F. O. E., accepted from the Eagles bowlers who rolled in the A. B. C. at Detroit, a plaque of a bowler for their display department.

Incoming F. O. E. president, Louis Krueger and Walter Ringer, L. O. O. M., spoke as did Carroll Durbin, loop statistician, J. J. McCoy, Jack O'Neil Mike Kovach, home on leave from the U. S. Navy, George Shook, Ed Fritz, News Sports Editor, Adolf Lang, Homer Miles, Presidents Jas. Thomas and J. D. Thompson, Fred Smithand others.

Preakness Will Attract Throng

Expect Bimelech And Gallahadion To Battle It Out

FIELD OF EIGHT MAY FACE BARRIER

By HARVEY RIVKIN, International News Service Sports Writer

BALTIMORE, May 10. — A fast dwindling field awaits the starter for the running of the Golden Jubilee Preakness tomorrow.

If the horses keep dropping out one by one as they have been doing the past few days, it is likely that one of the smallest fields ever to be sent over the mile and three-sixteenths strip at Pimlico will go to the post in Maryland's turf classic.

Eight At Barrier

Casualties and results of trial races have taken a heavy toll in the ranks of the pampered three-year-olds. From 15 likely starters after the running of the Kentucky Derby last Saturday, it appeared this morning that not more than eight would face the barrier Saturday. By late today there may be but seven or six.

Should the footing be fast tomorrow, it is highly certain the following will compete:

Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Gallahadion, winner of the Derby; Colonel Edward R. Bradley's Bimelech, who placed second in the Blue Grass turf classic; Arnold Hanger's Dit, Charles S. Howard's Moiland, William L. Brann's Pictor, and Pelletri and Emerich's Andy K.

Mrs. E. Graham Lewis' Jacomar was withdrawn late yesterday Trainer Alec Gordon reported to Maryland Jockey club officials that the colt was injured in New York and would not be shipped down for the race.

Shenango Checks Bessemer High, 5-3

East New Castle Softballers Continue To Set Pace In Class B. Loop

Shenango Township High moved a step closer to the County Class B. Softball League toga by defeating Bessemer, 5-3, yesterday on Shenango Field.

In recording their fifth straight victory, the Shenango softballers played heads up ball throughout. Semanski limited the losers to three hits. Mediate, for Bessemer, dished out but five safe blows. Petro homered in the fourth for Shenango. J. McCree pumped out a pair of hits for Bessemer.

Score by innings:

		R.	H.	E.
Bessemer	.....100 200 0—3	3	3
Shenango	.....300 101 x—5	5	4

Batteries: Bessemer—Mediate and J. McCree; Shenango — Semanski and Petro.

UNION IS SECOND

Bssemer's defeat moved Union Township into second place. The recent Union-East Brook game, won by the Brookers, was a non-league affair, according to Coach J. Susko, of Union.

Union has copped four triumphs against a lone defeat compared to fourth wins and a pair of losses for Bessemer.

SHOT-OUT GAME COVERTS ARE RESTOCKED

Shot-out game coverts of the Commonwealth were restocked with over 34,000 additional pieces of game this past winter through the Game Commission's wild game transfer program. Ross L. Leffler, President of the Commission, in making the announcement at Harrisburg said that approximately 30,000 rabbits, 3,100 ringneck pheasants, 1,200 squirrels and 50 raccoons were transferred during the winter months from areas where no hunting is allowed and released on public hunting grounds, mostly within the same counties.

The Game President emphasized the fact that in this undertaking the Commission made a special effort to relieve orchardists, nurserymen and home gardeners of recurring damages, especially from rabbits, thereby avoiding the possibility of having such animals killed under the law by the owners as a protection to their crops. He said that, considering the unfavorable weather conditions, the game transfer program had been very successful, but that in certain parts of the state property owners failed to cooperate actively with the Commission's representatives and cooperating local sportsmen's groups, with the result that they suffered considerable damage.

Requests Co-operation

The time to reduce the surplus populations of rabbits and other game in restricted areas, such as nurseries and orchards, is during the winter months. President Leffler stated, and he expressed the hope that next year more owners of such areas will actively assist the Commission in its game transfer program, which is to be considerably expanded.

Attention was called to the fact that the rabbits so transferred were far superior to those imported from the Middlewest, and that dozens of sportsmen's organizations which heretofore purchased rabbits to supplement the Commission's stocking program are now setting up special refuge or propagating areas from which to trap and transfer native cottontails instead of sending their money out of the state.

United States Will Stay Out

By GEORGE DURNO, International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 10.—President Roosevelt today declared that Germany's lightning thrust into Europe's lowland countries has not altered American prospects for staying out of the second world war.

Asked at a jammed press conference what he now thought the chances were the United States could stay out of the European war, Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"I see no change in the situation in that respect since the peace blackout."

In contradiction to the usual White House practice Mr. Roosevelt authorized direct quotations.

Continuing, he told the 200 newspaper men assembled:

"I think I can say I am personally in full sympathy with the very excellent statement—the proclamation—that was given out by the queen of the Netherlands. It is worth reading. Let it go at that."

He cautioned reporters "for heaven's sake" not to write anything which might give the impression this country was headed into the war. He then phrased for quotation the sentence in which he declared he saw no change in the situation.

The President also said he had not given any thought to the suggestion that Congress should remain in session longer than the tentative early June adjournment date as a result of Hitler's latest smashing move.

Flyers Take Part In Demonstration

Aerial Circus Is Part Of Dedication Program At Armory Thursday

Co-operating in the dedication exercises for the Joseph V. Cuninngham Amory Thursday afternoon, a group of local flyers put on an aerial circus as the parade was moving out East Washington St and then did some formation flying over the armory prior to the speaking.

The flights leaders were W. H. Ice and Findley Wilson, with the following pilots flying with them. Paul Hess, Bud Smyser, John Duchloko, Paul Taylor, George Horonler, Ellsworth Dewberry, A. Dungan, Co-pilots were Marian Shoaf, Marilyn Boyd, Mike Duchko, James Haas, Norman Douglas, John Ball.

Captain Thomas J. Bell of Punxsutawney flew over for the exercises and joined the air circus. He then landed at the municipal airport and was rushed to the armory for the program.

The thrifty Philadelphia Board of Education is taking no chances on further geographical realignments in Europe. Superintendent Alexander J. Stoddard has ordered that no more maps shall be purchased until the end of the European war.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALI

Over in Ohio they are really going after the school teacher that has married and not told the school officials about it. It seems according to their law the school district can bring suit for recovery of wages against the teacher if she marries and doesn't say anything about it. That is one thing we can't understand . . . why folks get married and then keep the affair a secret . . . such goings on make idle tongues talk, and they say most unpleasant things.

Down in Atlantic City where the first general conference of the Methodist churches got together, it was definitely decided to make a plea for a set date for Easter. Now Easter is fixed by "being subject to the vagaries of the moon". The conference would like to have Easter set on the second Sunday in April. The next meeting of the conference will be in 1944 so we will see what happens between now and then with Easter.

A fellow is a fool if he doesn't take advantage of these fine bright days. There are a couple of hours in the evening when a little work can be done . . . of course, those who live in a community where there is daylight saving time have an extra daylight hour to play golf, cut the grass or take the family out for a ride.

You know folks, we have a great state here. Pennsylvania is away ahead of most any other state . . . we have good looking farms, good looking towns, good looking homes, autombiles and the scenery is great from the top of our beautiful mountains, we have good looking women and the new super-highway that will be ready for use on the Fourth of July is the envy of all states in the Union. Yes, my friends, we have a state that is well worth talking about, so when you write your friends in another state invite them here this summer, take them over the state and if they don't have the best time they ever had, then your a poor entertainer . . . because Pennsylvania has something on the ball.

Remember Mother on Sunday . . . show her that you still think she is the greatest gal on earth by making at least a visit to her home. And a little token of love, sent, will just make her feel dandy.

LEGAL NOTICES

Legal Notice

In Re: Petition of Joseph Rapczynski and Mary Rapczynski, for the satisfaction of a mortgage from John M. Lisle to David Lapsley.

In the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County, Pennsylvania. No. 23 June Term, 1940 M. D.

TO:—David Lapsley, or his heirs-at-law, or the holder or holders of the said mortgage.

Take notice that Joseph Rapczynski and Mary Rapczynski on the 6th day of May, 1940, presented their petition at No. 23 June Term, 1940, M. D. to the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County, Pennsylvania setting forth that they are the owners of a certain tract of land situate in Slippery Rock Township, Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows:

All that certain piece, parcel or lot of land situate, lying and being in the Township of Slippery Rock, County of Lawrence, and State of Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Bounded on the North by lands of Michael Copper and lands late of T. J. Alford, now of Ross Shaffer; on the East by lands lately of Mrs. A. J. Bowers and lands lately of William Cotton, now of Houk; on the South by a public road; and on the West by lands of Charles and Laughlin Copper, containing One Hundred (100) acres, more or less.

That a predecessor in the title of said lands, John M. Lisle, while he owned the same, to-wit: on October 22, 1857, under his hand and seal, made, executed and delivered to David Lapsley, his certain mortgage dated as aforesaid, covering a larger parcel of land, to-wit: One hundred eighty-six (186) acres and One hundred twenty-eight (128) perches, to secure the payment of a bond in a certain penal sum, conditioned for the payment by the said mortgagor of the sum of Six Thousand ($6,000) dollars, which said mortgage remains unsatisfied of record.

That the due date of said mortgage was October 22, 1858, and that a period of more than twenty (20) years having elapsed since the said due date, there is a legal presumption of the payment of said mortgage.

That your petitioners are unable to find the mortgagee in said mortgage, David Lapsley, or his heirs-at-law, though diligent and careful search for him and his heirs has been made. That his present residence or whereabouts is unknown and that no demand for payment of principal or interest has been made upon petitioners by said mortgagee or any other person.

WHEREFORE, your petitioners pray that a decree be made by your Honorable Court directing that satisfaction be entered on the record of said mortgage by the Recorder for the County of Lawrence, on the payment of the costs due relative to the entry of said mortgage or any proceedings thereon, which said satisfaction so entered shall forever thereafter discharge, defeat and release the same, and shall likewise bar all actions brought or to be brought thereon, as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if the satisfaction had been entered by the legal holder or holders of said mortgage.

Whereupon the Court made the following order:—

Now, May 6th, 1940, the within Petition presented in Open Court, and upon due consideration thereof, the Sheriff of said Lawrence County is hereby directed to serve a notice, stating the facts set forth in the within petition, on the holder or holders of the said mortgage, if to be found in the said County, and in case the parties aforesaid cannot be found in the said County, then the said Sheriff shall give public notice in the New Castle News, published within the said Lawrence County, once a week for four weeks successively prior to the next term thereafter, being the first Monday in June, 1940, requiring the said parties to appear at said term and answer the petition as aforesaid.

BY THE COURT.
THOMAS W. DICKEY, J.

(SEAL)
WITNESS my hand and seal of said Court at New Castle, Penna., this 6th day of May, A.D., 1940.

War In Europe Unsettles Market

Buying Fever At Start Of Market Today Is Quickly Wiped Out

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Nazi invasion of Holland and Belgium touched off a boom in "war babies" today.

The buying fever wore off quickly, however, and just before midday was succeeded by heavy selling in some of the leaders.

Gains running to over 3 points in steel shares were pretty well wiped out, as they were in other war issues.

Chrysler cracked over 4 points in a weak market for motor shares. U. S. Steel lost a gain of over a point and was down as much.

The ticker trailed a large part of the forenoon. It was 3 minutes late in the early buying rush, and felt behind again when the market weakened before midday.

U. S. Rubber was weak throughout, reflecting its huge investment in the East Indies, and cracked over 3 points.

Eastman Kodak lost 2 points. Lower prices ruled in Rails and Utilities.

The foreign exchange market was demoralized. For a time there was no market in the British pound as anywhere near last night's close. It finally opened at $3.05, a record low and down 29 3-4 cents, rallying later. The French franc also hit a record low. There was no market for Dutch, Belgian and Swiss currencies.

Commodities were strong. Rubber, involved in the hostilities through the big Dutch production of this commodity, jumped the limit of 200 points or 2 cents a pound. Wheat scored gains running to over 3 cents a bushel in interior markets. Cotton was strong, and other commodities scored substantial gains.

Feature of the bond market was a new crackup in all foreign issues. Belgian bonds were offered with no nearby bids, and were finally quoted at 60 bid against last night's close of 98 1-8. Italian bonds broke almost 3 points. Canadian and other British empire securities were weak.

Pronounced weakness was shown by the London and Paris stock markets. The Dutch and Swiss markets were closed.

Bethlehem Steel opened firm and then ran up over 3 points. It lost a point of this later. Gains in other steels at the highs ran to over a point.

Douglas was up 2 points but lost most of this later. Boeing was strong. Curtiss-Wright was very active.

Gains in sugar shares ran to 2 points in Fajardo and South Porto Rico.

LEGION HEAD URGES AMERICA TO BE PREPARED

sightedness of the American Legion should have been hearkened to long ago.

Denounces Communism

Commander Kelly also attacked those subversive elements which have sought to undermine our government. For six years, the American Legion has tried to outlaw the Communist party, and all other subversive agencies which have operated against this government, he stated.

He denounced Communism in particular, charging that it was a foreign conspiracy masked under the cloak of a political party, and urged that it be denied a place on the American ballot and refused permission to function as a legalized political party.

In his travels over the United States, Commander Kelly stated he had found that the burden of conversation during the past year has been the possibilities of the involvement of our country in the present overseas holocaust. The universal expression is for us to stay out of Europe's age-old conflicts. The eyes of the nation were turned on the 21st national convention of the American Legion held in Chicago last September, just following the outbreak of hostilities across the Atlantic.

Demand U. S. Stay Out

When the American Legion took a positive stand against possibility of our becoming involved, the people of the nation began to demand positively that we stay out of war.

He stated that the American Legion will have none of a supine peace at any price policy. The conditions of such peace are often worse than war. A supine profession is an open invitation to attack, and so the American Legion demands that America be prepared.

Outlines Program

This defense program urged by the American Legion included the strengthening of the Panama canal approaches, which is now being done; increasing the size of the National Guard and Regular Army; adopting a program which would store supplies and equipment for an army and navy of one million men for the period of a year; continued development and training of ROTC, CMTC, and modified military training in the CCC; construction of a navy second to none capable of operating in both seas; additional naval bases in the Pacific; completion of the present program outlined for military and naval aviation, and training of more American Merchant Marine officers and men.

In conclusion, he urged his audience to remember that whatever may be our sympathies and antipathies in the struggle which is going on across the Atlantic we should "love America more"; that it is vital today that we look to our country's needs first; that there are millions of Americans who do not count their blessings as citizens of this nation; and that it is important that we sell America to Americans.

"Personally," he said, "I am eternally grateful for the opportunity to lead an organization as American as the American Legion. In return, I pledge that the efforts of the American Legion will be given without thought of the cost of sacrifice. Whatever the price of our effort, it will be paid."

Wallover Presides

Commander Kelly spoke from the stage of the auditorium, where the audience repaired following an excellent dinner in the dining rooms and ballroom. He was introduced by Edwin Wallover, member of Midland post of Beaver county, who was master of ceremonies.

Following selections of the national champion junior band of the Perry S. Gaston post, led by Legionnaire Joe Replogle, the preamble of the constitution of the American Legion was recited, following which District Commander Dennis E. Cain presented Toastmaster Wallover.

Attorney Clarence E. Patterson, in behalf of the Perry S. Gaston post, presented Dallas C. Hartford of Hillsville with a four-year scholarship to the University of Pittsburgh, which had been made available to the post by State Senator William J Eroe, a member of the post. Hartford stood the highest in a competitive examination recently conducted under the auspices of the post.

Then followed three lovely selections by the Schubert Sextette, composed of six talented ladies, accompanied by Mrs. Kathryne Nessle Allen.

Mrs. Paul Speaks

Greetings were brought by Mrs. Velma Paul, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, who announced that the auxiliary had greatly exceeded its membership quota for the year, and that the various units had outdone themselves in carrying out the department and national auxiliary program. She announced that the girls state camp would be opened at Gettysburg college on June 22, and that reservations had been closed long ago for a full camp.

Mrs. Paul was presented with a lovely arm bouquet by Mrs. Alma Barnes of Beaver Falls, president of the Four-County Council. Mrs Carrie Stein of Meadville, western vice president, was also honored, the presentation being made by Mrs. Beryl Weaver of Dravosburg, department finance chairman, Mrs. Frank C. Conner, president of the local auxiliary, aiding with the presentations.

Greetings were also brought by Department Commander Edward E. Stirling, who highly commended General Chairman Ches C. Sweesy and the committee which had arranged the dinner and program of the evening. He also complimented District Commander Dennis E. Cain of Ellwood City for the way in which the Legion program was being put across in his district. Department Commander Stirling spoke briefly, making way for the national commander, who had to leave earlier than had been anticipated, so that he might catch a train in Pittsburgh last night to go to Hartford, Conn., where he was scheduled for an address at noon today.

Greetings were also brought by Dr. H. C. Whittman, Chef de Gare of the 40 and 8, and by Milo C. Warner of Toledo, O., who substituted for Ohio Department Commander Ray Gardner, who was prevented from attending by illness.

The splendid efforts of the committee which had charge of arrangements for the banquet and program were attested to by the smoothness and precision with which the entire affair was conducted. The dinner was served promptly on time, there were no delays anywhere, and the program ended promptly on schedule, with dancing the concluding feature.

National Commander Kelly stated that it was one of the finest receptions he had received anywhere in his travels which have already taken him into 42 states of the nation. He paid high tribute to Chairman Sweesy and his committees.

Dinner Program

During the dinner hour, the distinguished guests—and there were a host of them present—were introduced to the audience by J. H. Collins of Saxonburg, district chairman of Butler county.

Collins was presented by Commander A. L. Conn of Perry S. Gaston post. The visiting Legionnaires and their friends were welcomed to the city by Mayor Charles B. Mayne, and there was pep singing led by Emrys Davis of Mercer, with Mrs. Ross D. Rosenberger as accompanist.

Selections were rendered by the Ellwood City bugle and drum corps during the dinner.

On the arrival of the party, which numbered National Commander Kelly, Chef de Gare Dr. H. C. Whittman of the 40 and 8, Department Commander Stirlin, National Committeeman J. Guy Griffith, and Mrs. Paul, department auxiliary president, they were serenaded by the Legion Junior Band and the Ellwood City bugle and drum corps, who won the praise of the commander for their splendid playing.

HISTORIC HOUSE LEASED

PHILADELPHIA — One hundred and twenty years old, Philadelphia's historic custom house has been leased by the federal government to the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, Inc., to become a center for a "better integration of the German element in the United States with the rest of the American people." The foundation, which honors the German immigrant who became a Union general in the Civil War, confidant of Abraham Lincoln, senator, cabinet member and ambassador, has leased the structures for 20 years.

NEW ARMORY IS DEDICATED

The two organizations accompanied the line to County Line street and then fell out. Piloting the way was a police car of the city.

From County Line street to Arlington avenue the line proceeded and at the corner of Arlington and Huron avenue, the American Legion band and a platoon of troopers on foot headed the parade up Huron avenue to the armory. Overhead a group of planes circled about.

As the parade moved in the troopers formed a lane down which the cars went. Just west of the armory a platform had been erected and it was from this platform that the speaking took place. Major W. Fulton Jackson was the chairman of the day.

Asks For Support

The ceremonies were brief but impressive. In his dedicatory address Adjutant General Edward Martin pleaded for a united support of Troop K and the other National Guard units of the commonwealth and the nation. "We devoutly hope there will be no need for the United States to send troops into battle again" said he, "but I believe the best guarantee we can have of that is a properly armed and trained army and National Guard."

"We are dedicating this armory today to peace and service. In it will be educated young men to take care of themselves, to learn how to live properly and to learn something of military efficiency. It is a fine structure, used by a fine unit of cavalry. As citizens you owe it to yourselves and to your nation to support this troop in its endeavors and I know you will. New Castle has supported the troop in past years in a convincing manner. I know your interest will continue."

Other Speakers

Major-General Edward Shannon, retired commander of the 28th division spoke briefly and congratulated the troop upon its new home. "I know something of the struggles you have had to get the armory and as a member of the Armory Board it was a pleasure for me to aid you. In his remarks General Shannon paid tribute to Louis B. Round and Major W. Fulton Jackson, the two men most responsible locally for the armory being built.

For the 22nd Cavalry division Col. Benjamin Jones, chief of staff spoke. He expressed the regrets of Colonel E. J. Stackpole, Jr., division commander who was unable to be present. Col. Jones was the commander of the 103rd regiment during the time the armory was under construction and spoke of his association with the local sponsor committee.

The program opened with the Legion Band playing "America" and the crowd singing.

Rev. John J. McIlvaine invoked a Divine blessing upon the occasion and Mayor Charles B. Mayne delivered a most fitting address of welcome.

For the county commissioners George H. Bolinger, chairman of the board spoke, and made a most appropriate address.

Louis B. Round, chairman of the Sponsor Committee spoke for that group. He said in his remarks:

"We now have the Armory, because the citizens of New Castle willed that we should have one, and the citizens are entitled to all the credit, for it is through the wonderful cooperation extended to the Committee, and especially through the Municipal and County officials, that we have been able to accomplish this."

Ribbon Is Cut

Following the speaking, Captain George F. Mitchell, troop commander escorted Mrs. Joseph V. Cunningham, widow of the troop founder, to the outer doors of the armory. Here Mrs. Cunningham cut the ribbon that symbolized the formal opening of the armory named in honor of her late husband. The crowd then made a tour of inspection.

Present for the exercises were many men who had served in the troop in previous years. Among the guests introduced were Councilman William H. Dunlap, one of the first commissioned officers, Thomas C. Armstrong also one of the first officers. Col. John Woodend, inspector for the Armory Board, Col. Stephen Elliott, commander of the 109th Field Artillery, Mervin L. Bingaman, secretary of the Armory Board, Col. Samuel B. Wolfe, commanding the 103rd regiment, Lt. Col. Benjamin Levine, Major B. C. Andrus, Major Milo E. Pratt and Captain T. J. Bell of Punxsutawney. Mrs. Cunningham was also introduced.
